

Prohibition Party May Disband

Lowden Appears G. O. P. Choice For Vice President

Lack of Support May Force 50 Year Old Party Out of Existence

COLUMBUS, O., June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The Prohibition National Convention today voted to continue the party machinery, nominate candidates and make its usual campaign for principle. It rejected a resolution by Robert H. Patton, Illinois, proposing that no ticket be placed in the field, but that members of the party find asylum in an amalgamation of law and order forces.

A platform advocating reading of the bible in all public schools and opening public inspections of all places where wards are kept was adopted by the convention here. The convention took no action against coffee, tea or tobacco, as was expected.

Faced by steadily dwindling interest and resources, the death of many former voters and lack of young blood to take its vacant places, the wheel horses of the organization were ready to let the coming generation be the final answer to the question.

Has the Prohibition party fulfilled its mission?

Many had already answered "Yes." Others of like mind, but willing to stick to the ship, were supporting a resolution introduced yesterday by Robert

MODIFICATION OF RESTRICTION BALLOT LAWS URGED BY PROHIB PARTY IN PLATFORM

COLUMBUS, O., June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Modification of the restrictive ballot laws in the various states and reaffirmation of the party's support of the 18th amendment and the Volstead law were the principal planks in the platform prepared by the resolution committee for presentation today to the prohibition national convention in session here.

The committee worked until early this morning, putting the finishing touches upon the various planks.

Reports to the national committee indicated that in fourteen states the Prohibition party would be unable to have the names of its candidates printed on the official ballots this year because of restrictive ballot laws. Leaders said the party would be on the official ballot in only about half of the states in all probability.

The modification plank asserted that the restrictive ballot law is un-American and un-Democratic, and that it throttles new parties. In addition, the tentative platform urges the enactment of uniform marriage and divorce laws; world peace through co-operation between nations; greater justice between capital and labor; restriction of immigration; a larger Americanization program and the teaching of the Bible in the public schools.

The Prohibition plank strongly advocates a stricter enforcement of the prohibition laws, reaffirmed the party's support of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

Indications early today were that the worst case of the party would not endorse the World Court, the League of Nations or any other plan, but would urge co-operation between nations generally.

For President

The American party, having both a Klan and prohibition planks in its platform, has selected Dr. Gilbert W. Nations, of Washington, as its presidential nominee. Dr. Nations is a member of the faculty of George Washington University, and is editor of The Statesman.

Says Comedian Wore Her Blue Silk Kimono and Her Negro Maid's Long Ear-Rings

NEW YORK, June 6.—(By the United Press)—Beautiful Imogene Wilson, told on the witness stand today how Frank Tinney, wearing only her blue silk kimono and a pair of long earrings belonging to her negro maid beat her into unconsciousness in her flat.

The belle girl, pale to the dark circles under her tear-filled eyes, sobbed occasionally as she described the night "when the famous black comedian practiced boxing on me."

The physician who treated her took the stand. He told of her injuries, but said he was not at all certain about the alleged kick in the stomach, as Miss Wilson had previously complained about a pain there. The case was then adjourned until Wednesday.

Dry Advocate's Home Bombed

NILES.—The home of Samuel Corso was badly damaged by a small bomb, slightly injured by flying glass, was a bomb which police said was thrown by persons disgruntled over dry enforcement activities of Corso. The family of seven were asleep in the house at the time of the explosion. This is the third time the home has been bombed in the last 18 months.

Victim of Asphasia

COLUMBUS, O., June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—A man believed to be Charles Dunlap, 73, former justice of the peace of Norwood, a suburb of Cincinnati, was found on the street here, suffering from asphasia and taken to the White Cross Hospital. He was on his way to Cincinnati following a visit with relatives at Canton.

Leopold And Loeb Indicted For Murder

CHICAGO, June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The confession of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., made public last night by Robert E. Crowe's state's attorney, after the grand jury had indicted Leopold and Richard Loeb, both millionaires' sons and brilliant university post-graduate students, on twenty-six counts, charging the kidnapping for ransom and murder of Robert Frank, May 21, was revealed as an emotional, less a matter of fact document.

"The next problem was to get the victim and we were undecided until that day said the confession after it related the plans for capturing, slaying and disposing of a child in preparation for demanding $10,000 ransom.

"They we decided to take the most likely looking subject that came our way. It just happened to be Robert Frank. Richard was acquainted with him and called him over and introduced him to me and then asked Robert to go for a ride.

In coldly formal language the confession related the disposal of the body after it had been stripped Leopold stating that at first he feared there would be difficulty in forcing it into a culvert where it was found. When the body struck in the culvert, Leopold said he forced it further by pushing with his foot.

MILLERAND RESISTING EFFORTS TO OUST HIM

PARIS, June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The battle of Elysee with President Millerand resisting the efforts of the new majority of the Left to oust him from office in what he considers an unconstitutional manner, continues to be fought out according to schedule and with the regularity of clock work, everything being known in advance except the final result.

M. Millerand, who according to those in his confidence is more than ever resolved to carry out to the very end what he considers his duty to resume his consultations with political leaders today.

M. Herriot, Radical leader, who yesterday declined to form a ministry while M. Millerand continued in the presidency, is consulting with M. M. Painleve, Brigue Boncour, Varone and other group leaders. The plan of the Left is, according to present arrangements, to leave the next move to Millerand, so consequently the chamber of deputies today after dealing with the formal business of ratification of mandates, will follow the example of the senate and adjourn until Tuesday, by which time the cabinet President Millerand is seeking to form, ought to be ready to appear in the chamber. If it is then placed in the minority the president is expected to draw his own conclusion and act in conformity.

Back Broken by Auto

AKRON, O., June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Louis Russell, 37, Cleveland, is in a hospital here, said to be suffering with a broken back as a result of an accident on Talmadge avenue at 1:00 a. m., when the automobile in which she was riding turned a complete somersault. The driver, Julius Fritz, and Helen Artzel, William Conway, Emil Horn and Alfred Krause, passengers, also of Cleveland, were uninjured.

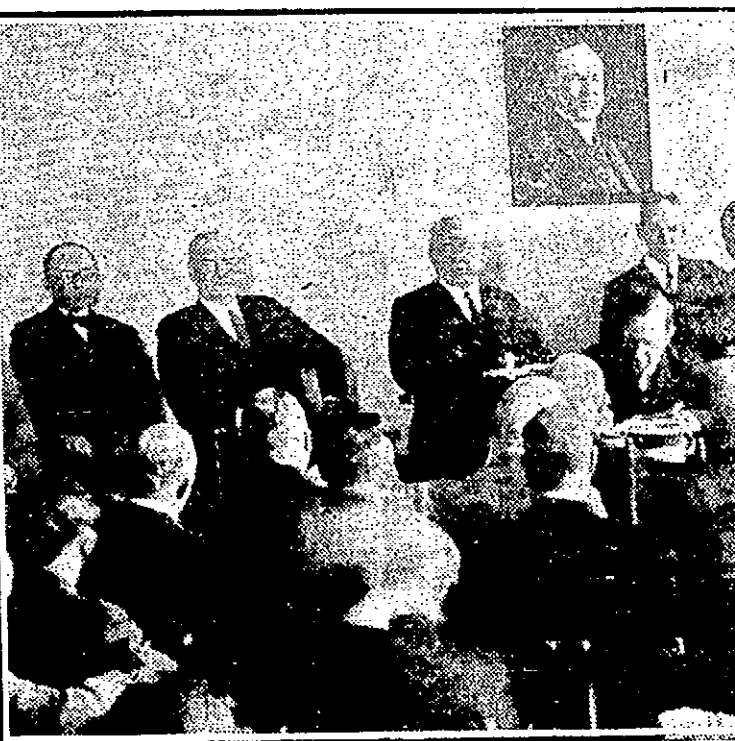

Russian Trade Unions Seek Calendar Change

MOSCOW, June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Having failed in its efforts to abolish Sunday and adopt Monday as the day of rest, the Council of Trade Unions has initiated a project for altering the calendar.

Under the plan, which is before a special commission to the Council of Commissars, each year would consist of 280 days divided into twelve months of thirty days each. Each month would consist of six weeks and each week of five days, of which only four would be working days. The day would consist of 25 hours and the hour of 37 minutes.

The working day would be composed of nine of the new hours, thus lengthening by 33 minutes the present eight-hour day, but the toilers would have a full day of rest in every five.

National Committee in Action

Battle Rages Before Tirana; Casualties Exceed Thousand

LONDON, June 6.—(By the United Press)—Battlefields before Tirana, the Albanian capital, are strewn with dead, the casualties exceeding one thousand, according to an Athens dispatch to The Daily Express today quoting Durazzo advices. The Albanian Nationalists' revolution and drive for the capital is being carried on with desperate fighting, the report says. In fighting around Tirana, scores of dead lie where they fell.

The Nationalists are accused of capturing fifty government soldiers, living them up and executing them in batches of five in the presence of the others.

Cloudburst Hits the Miami Valley; Dayton Homes Flooded

DAYTON, June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The cloudburst which swept Dayton and the Miami Valley last night resulted in the almost total destruction of the corn crop in Montgomery county, tied up street car lines in Dayton for more than an hour and put approximately 1,000 telephones in Dayton out of commission.

The most serious damage reported was at the foot of Monmouth street, where the fifteen foot levee of the feeder canal running from the Mad river to the hydraulic canal, caved in, the water rushing through a 30-foot fissure into homes in the surrounding area.

In some places the water rose above the level of the first floors. Danger was averted by police, who closed the gates admitting water into the feeder canal.

Between nine and ten o'clock last night Dayton experienced the heaviest rainfall of its history, according to William Koffert, United States weather forecaster. During that time slightly over two inches of water fell. The total precipitation during the storm was 2.56 inches in Dayton.

Coolidge, Having Been Vice Pres. Himself, Not Recommending Post Too Heartily to Other Aspirants

(BY DAVID LAWRENCE) (Copyright, 1924)

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Calvin Coolidge's advice on the subject of the Vice Presidency is being much sought by the managers of the Republican party, but to date they have drawn no definite commitment as to individuals beyond the general statement that several names mentioned to him would be satisfactory.

Mr. Coolidge having been a Vice President himself once can not recommend the life too heartily for there is nothing more uninteresting than being a Vice Presidential candidate.

An active man, especially one with administrative talent, does not relish the idea of sitting speechless in the Senate chamber listening to the monotonous debates and parliamentary wrangles. That's why friends of Herbert Hoover can think of nothing more undesirable for an active personality like him than to be tied down to a presiding officer's duties while there are large projects like water power, radio development, and the general program of the Department of Commerce to be worked out in the few years.

MELLON DENIES CHARGES OF LIQUOR PERMIT CONSPIRACY

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Secretary Mellon today entered a formal denial of charges leveled against his conduct of the treasury department by Gaston B. Means in testimony before the senate Daugherty committee.

In a letter the secretary denied in details, Means' story about his investigations into a report that Mr. Mellon had agreed to issue whiskey withdrawal permits to Rex Sheldon, of New York, in return for money to help make up the deficit of the Republican national committee.

The denial applied in part to a conversation on the subject which Means said took place between himself and former Under Secretary Gilbert of the treasury, but as soon as the secretary's letter had been entered into the record, Thomas W. Miller, the alien property custodian was placed on the stand and testified that he himself had been present at such a conversation.

Colonel Miller said he brought Means and Gilbert together in his office.

"I can't say exactly what was discussed," he continued, "but it concerned Rex Sheldon." Means then was an agent of the department of justice.

USE NEWSPRINT PAPER WASHINGTON.—Consumption of newsprint paper in the United States in 1923 set a new high record. Total net consumption, according to the Department of Commerce, amounted to 2,800,000 tons, exceeding the figures for 1920 by about 28 per cent and those of 1922 by about 15 per cent.

LOS ANGELES BUILDS LOS ANGELES.—Los Angeles is credited with one-twentieth of all the building operations in the United States during 1923 in a statement issued by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Reports from other cities in Southern California, showed similar record-breaking building activities.

NEPOCUNIALITY GONE NEW YORK.—No longer will David Neponunkitzy be called upon to repeat his name five or six times in casual introductions, nor will he have to print his signature on hotel registers. He who was David Neponunkitzy is now David Knapp. The Supreme Court of the land has no objections to the change.

Ex-Governor Of Illinois To Be Drafted By The Republicans

CLEVELAND, O., June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—The vice presidential nomination, as good as settled with the word that former Governor Lowden, of Illinois, will be acceptable to President Coolidge, the convention managers today devoted themselves to clearing up last minute arrangements.

The few delegate contests remaining before the national committee for decision were on their way to being swiftly disposed of before night, with the idea of leaving Saturday and Sunday and some on Monday free for enjoyment of the hospitality and entertainment provided by the city of Cleveland. So far as the pre-convention managers can see, nothing has arisen to upset their plans for adjournment on next Thursday night.

The growing sentiment for Lowden for several places, dominating in the word that his nomination would be agreeable to President Coolidge, the assurance that the name of Senator Hiram Johnson would not even be presented to the convention, and the possibility that Senator La Follette may not be formally placed in nomination, all combined to smooth out the convention program and to assure that the session will be a brief and harmonious as the leaders desire.

Little remains to be done now, except the actual drafting of the platform, before the convention really gets down to its business.

The first recognition of the senate in arrangements for the Republican national convention was given today with the selection of Senator William B. McKinley, of Illinois, as chairman of the credentials committee.

In announcing the selection of Senator McKinley, William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, pre-convention manager for President Coolidge, said further recognition probably would be accorded to the senate in filling places on other committees which remained to be organized.

Senator McKinley is serving his first term in the senate, but previously has served in the house in seven congresses.

Bryan to Support McAdoo at Democratic Convention; Oratorical Ability May Swing Tide

NEW YORK, June 6.—(By the United Press)—William Jennings Bryan will vote for W. C. McAdoo and will not nominate Dr. A. A. Murphy, president of the Florida University, as he originally planned. Over the long distance phone from Fort Bailey, Ga., where he was last evening, Bryan explained he is instructed for McAdoo and will stay with him as long as he remains in the race.

"I deeply appreciate," he said, "the record vote given me by the people of Florida as delegate-at-large. I am glad I was instructed for McAdoo."

Informed that he was expected to seek a dry plank in the Democratic platform and make a fight for it if necessary on the floor of the convention, Bryan declined to discuss his plans.

"It is not good business for delegates to start saying what they will do," he said.

During a speech late yesterday, however, Bryan said he hoped he might help write the Democratic platform, which he said would be distinctly progressive. It is expected that he will defend at the New York Democratic convention his dramatic fight at San Francisco four years ago for a dry plank.

McAdoo, being absolutely dry, might find in the commodore, the oratorical genius required to definitely turn the convention away from Governor Al Smith.

SELBY LEAGUE

Wallace was in fine form and the Office crew triumphed over the Finishes in a hot struggle in the Selby league staged at Selco park yesterday afternoon. The final score was 4 to 2, and the combat was a keen pitchers' duel in which Wallace bested Frye by the necessary margin to grab off the victory.

Now It Is Prof. Otto Birk

Friends of W. Otto Birk, who has been at the head of the Department of English in the College of Engineering, University of Colorado, will be pleased to learn that he was recently promoted to the rank of Professor of English at the University, a state school with about 3,000 students at Boulder, Colo. He was one of eleven out of a faculty of about 250 to receive any promotion and one of five to receive the rank of professor.

Prof. Birk has for three years been a member of the National English Committee of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education and is the author of numerous articles in educational magazines.

He is a product of the Portsmouth public schools. His father was at one time a partner of William Blankmeyer, tailor. Prof. Birk is a nephew of Albert Haverkotte and Jacob and Louis Birk, this city. His wife is Margaret Graf Birk, daughter of Mrs. Emma Graf, 703 Second street. Prof. Birk and wife and two daughters were here on a visit last summer.

Demurer Filed in Last Suit

The Cincinnati Enquirer Friday said:

In the suit of the Vulcan Last Company, Portsmouth, Ohio, vs. Ernest A. Eastman, doing business as Eastman Last Works, Portsmouth, for recovery of $99,300 alleged to be due to the plaintiff, the United States for alleged violation of Section 4901 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, the defendant yesterday through his attorneys, Allen & Smith, Cincinnati, filed a demurrer in United States District Court on the ground it is not alleged in any of the 603 causes of action set forth by the plaintiff that the shoe lasts manufactured by the defendant and marked "Patented June 6, 1922" were in fact not patented.

Whiskey Found After Collision; Woman Held

Irene Hawes, 27, was the name given by a woman taken into custody and brought to police headquarters Thursday evening by state prohibition officers for alleged transporting liquor unlawfully. The arrest was made when the officers claimed a search of the defendant's automobile, a Chevrolet, after the machine had figured in a collision with a wagon on Gallia place, yesterday, resulting in the finding of a half pint of whiskey.

Miss Hawes was brought to police headquarters but was later released on $500 bond for her appearance in Municipal court on June 11 for trial.

Three Cars Damaged; Ruel Faces Charges

Shirley Ruel, 35, mechanic in the Crabtree garage on Market street, is being held at the police station on a charge of reckless driving as the result of his truck ramming a Ford car last night in front of the Turner Hotel and causing it to damage two other cars. Two of the machines were owned by A. N. Cooper and S. Hardin, salesmen of Cincinnati who are stopping at the hotel. Arrangements were made by Ruel to pay all the damages.

THEORIES ARE PROVEN AS PEPGEN CONTINUES TO WIN FAVOR WITH PORTSMOUTH PEOPLE

The health theories which have been so widely advanced by the Peppen Specialist now at Fisher and Stretch's Pharmacy explaining the uses of this famous medicine have been clearly proven by the actual success of the medicine since its introduction in Portsmouth.

"Every day," said Mr. Streich, head of the Fisher & Stretch Pharmacy, "well known and prominent citizens of Portsmouth, who have through the use of Peppen been relieved of stomach, liver or kidney ailments are coming in to my store with written statements of indorsement of the remedy."

Wife Of N. & W. R. R.

Engineer Is Delighted

Mrs. J. W. Underwood of 1222 Franklin avenue, wife of the well known and popular N. & W. R. R. engineer in speaking recently of Peppen, in part said:

"Your medicine Peppen has been a wonderful thing for me. I don't know what I would have done without it. I had become very nervous and run down. My stomach was giving me lots of trouble. It seemed as though everything I ate would disagree with me. I would have these terrible attacks of gas and bloating after my meals. And at night, often I would lie awake until almost morning."

"My husband had been reading about Peppen and so we decided to get a bottle. I started taking the medicine three times a day before my meals. Before the first bottle was half gone I began to improve. My appetite got better, I found that I was actually hungry when meal time came. Now after a good course of the preparation I am in perfectly splendid health. My nerves are just as steady as they can be. I sleep soundly every night and wake up without that tired, worn out feeling."

Its Equal Does Not Exist Says This Portsmouth Woman

Mrs. J. D. Brooker, of Second street, in speaking of her experience with Peppen, said:

"I was all run down and dreadfully tired most of the time. I had no energy or excitement would upset me. My digestion was weak, and sleep very imperfect. I seemed to lack strength and energy and felt listless. I cannot begin to describe my symptoms, but I guess every woman knows them."

"I became interested in Peppen and hearing it highly recommended by several of my neighbors I became convinced that it was something good and out of the ordinary. I got some of the medicine and began taking it before my meals. 'Less than two days after I began to take Peppen I began to feel my foot. I was hungry at meal time. I began to sleep soundly and my strength became greater, my nerves stronger."

"Peppen is simply a wonderful medicine and no woman who is run down will make a mistake in giving it a fair trial. I wish I could give a bottle to every woman in Portsmouth who is now suffering as I was."

CAUTION: The genuine Peppen is packed in a white and blue carton and may be obtained in Portsmouth only at Fisher & Stretch's Pharmacy.

Students, Sentenced for Wild Parties, Making Jail Their Glass Rooms, Study for Exams

KALAMAZOO, MICH., June 6.—(By the United Press)—The county jail today became a class room as over a score of high school students, either held or sentenced in connection with charges for wild parties, studied for their final examinations. The boys brought their books with them, determined to pass regardless of their present difficulties. One boy who was on probation for a statutory offense, was sentenced to the reformatory for from one to ten years. The boy, Duke Knickerbocker, popular with his classmates, pleaded guilty, but Circuit Judge Weimer refused to show leniency. The largest sensation was the sentencing of Garland Buck, track captain, to 45 days in the county jail for contributing to the delinquency of a minor girl. He also pleaded guilty. Fifteen other boys have been sentenced to jail to terms ranging from 25 to 45 days. Six more are awaiting arraignment and more arrests are expected today, according to Sheriff Curtis Bringle.

Second Bad Fire

When fire destroyed the W. J. Wittman, general store and dwelling at Wiltman Station on the D. T. & I., two miles east of Beaver Wednesday night, it was the second fire in which the Wittman family sustained a heavy loss within a few weeks.

About Easter time two sisters of Mr. Wittman, Miss Frances Wittman, who had been making her home with a brother, Harry, in Jackson, and Miss Jessie Wittman, who had been living in California, returned to the old home place and started to clean the premises preparatory to opening the homebased which had been closed about a year. They set fire to dry grass and sparks were set free to the dwelling which was completely destroyed. It was located just across the railroad track from the Wittman general store. The Wittmans have distant relatives in this city.

Rev. Schwan To Conduct Services at Preserve

The Portsmouth Ministerial Association has arranged to hold services at the camp for trustees on the Roosevelt Game Preserve. The first of these services will be held Sunday afternoon June 15, about three o'clock, with Rev. H. W. Schwan, of Grandview Avenue Christian Church in charge.

Removed Home

Robert Baker, who has been in Schirman hospital several weeks suffering with a broken leg, was removed to his home 221 Third street, in the Lent ambulance Thursday. Mr. Baker was injured when he fell from the roof of a house at New Boston.

ACID THROWER OPERATES IN NEW BOSTON; TWO GIRLS VICTIMS

Miss Geraldine Abraham Is Badly Burned, Miss Mullin Only Slightly; Entire Village Is Aroused; Not Remotest Clue

Officials in New Boston, Friday, were concentrating their efforts in the hope of apprehending an acid thrower, who operating on Harrisonville avenue, that village last night had as his victim, Miss Geraldine Abraham, aged 17, of 905 Harrisonville avenue, and her chum, Miss Ruth Mullin, aged 17, Cedar street and Harrisonville avenue.

Miss Abraham was burned on the left side of her head and face, her left ear was burned and a portion of the acid reached her neck. Attending physicians claim that she would have been badly burned and disfigured had not most of the acid struck her luxuriant growth of hair. Her hair was burned off. If a torch had been applied and the victim was today compelled to have her entire head shingled.

Miss Mullin was almost out of the path of the acid thrower and was only slightly burned. Several drops of the fiery fluid, however, ruined her dress.

HAD ATTENDED CHOIR PRACTICE

The two girls were on their way home from their practice and prayer meeting services when acid was thrown on them. They claim they have no enemies so far as they know, no young men are mixed up in an affair that would lead to acid throwing from a jealous motive and the girls as well as their relatives and officials of New Boston are at a loss to advance a theory as to why the liquid was thrown. As soon as Joseph Abraham, father of one of the victims and long a well known and highly respected citizen of New Boston, learned of the incident he lost no time in going to Mayor Bierley's office in New Boston and was demanded that a thorough and systematic search be made for the acid thrower. "If I could have put my hands on him last night there was no telling what I would have done," Mr. Abraham told a Times man at his home this morning.

ONE VICTIM GIVES VERSION OF AFFAIR

With her head swathed in bandages and every vestige of hair removed from her head Miss Abraham was found seated on the front porch of her home this morning by a Times man. She was busy peeling an orange and was happy over the thought that her heavy growth of hair saved her from being disfigured and possibly from use of her eyes. She related her version of the affair as follows:

"We had attended choir practice and prayer meeting services and were on our way home when we met a woman and three or four young men near Spruce street and Harrisonville avenue. The man said 'Hello, Sweetie Jack' as he passed me. I am known as Jack but as I did not know the man I did not speak to him. As he brushed by me he poured something on my head and tried to throw some in my face. He then disappeared with the young woman and men. I was with. I turned around to Ruth and said, why he threw water on me. I did not know it was carbolic acid until I arrived home and my head and face began to burn. We called Dr. A. B. Mills and upon his arrival he told me that instead of water being thrown on me it was carbolic acid. I have not been going with any young men and neither has Ruth and we cannot figure out why the acid thrower picked us out unless it was a case of mistaken identity."

Miss Abraham reported for work at the Selby plant today, but after having her burns treated by the factory physician, Dr. L. C. L. Ferguson she was persuaded to return to her home. She is employed in the fitting room and is very popular with her co-workers.

New Boston has been thoroughly aroused over the incident and the friends of the victims are making their own investigation of the affair in the hopes of running down the guilty person.

According to Miss Mullin the acid thrower wore a gray suit and dark hat. She lives on Cedar street and Harrisonville avenue and attends the New Boston high school. Her parents are dead.

Leopold

With the victim's body in their automobile covered with a robe, the slayers stopped at a restaurant and ate sandwiches before carrying out their plans for the burial and first demand of ransom.

Elaborate details had been worked out for the collection of the money which was to be placed in a safe deposit vault and kept for a year before being spent. The process of getting the money was decided on first then a means of notifying the father of the victim was arranged and finally the disposal of the body was planned, the confession said.

Had Not Figure On Killing Body

Extreme care had been taken that there might be no slip in putting the plan into effect but neither of the youths had bargained on the discovery of the body the day after it had been hidden, the finding near the body of a pair of glasses later identified as Leopold's and the father of the slain boy forgetting in his excitement part of the directions for delivering the money.

Leopold said that through field players he and Loeb watched children at play on the afternoon of the kidnapping when the Franks boy happened along. Their intention from the first had been to kill the victim, said the confession.

The true bills were voted by the grand jury exactly two weeks from the day the body of Robert Franks was found. In view of pending writs of habeas corpus for the release of the boys, the true bills were made returnable today. Formal arrest of the boys, held as suspects up to this time, is expected as they come into court today for the hearing on the habeas corpus application.

Doubtful was expressed by state's attorney Cross as to the story of Mrs. Louis E. Hooley, 45, mother of the children, who yesterday filed suit for $100,000 damages against Leopold and Loeb, charging them with having kidnapped and attacked her two weeks before Franks was kidnapped. She claimed she recognized newspaper photographs of the youths. The case will come up during the August term of the superior court.

Patch Up Their Enmity

The enmity between the erstwhile boon companions which began when they confessed, was reported, terminated at the county jail where Leopold and Loeb drew together yesterday during the prisoners' exercising period and conversed with obvious good feeling.

Leopold was said to have struck a jail guard late yesterday when he was summoned to the state's attorney's office for identification by two bank clerks in connection with their testimony that he had opened an account under a fictitious name in order to establish credit for hiring the murder car. He fought to conceal his face behind his arms, crying out that his rights were being invaded by making him give incriminating evidence against himself.

The guard grasped Leopold's hands to bear them to his side, whereupon Leopold was said to have lashed out with his fist.

Coolidge

Does Not Oppose Hoover

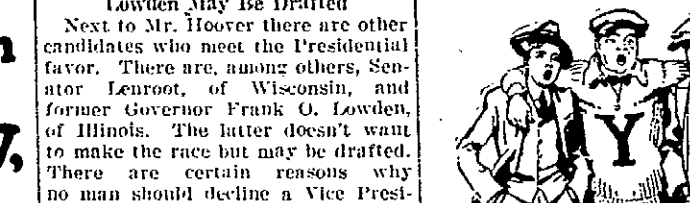

Mr. Coolidge has offered no word of dissent to the talk of the Hoover candidacy. "The Secretary himself is opposed to it, but some of the friends of the President are intrigued by the slogan 'Coolidge and Hoover' and they think it would be a vote-getter. But supposing Mr. Coolidge wins, Mr. Hoover's service as a vote-getter would end and he would be buried in the Vice Presidency for four years. Supposing Mr. Coolidge didn't win, then Mr. Hoover's political fortunes so far as availability in 1925 is concerned—and he is still a relatively young man—would go by the boards. Mr. Hoover favored the League of Nations, has a splendid war record and a good administrative record since the war, and is popular with the women voters. But his opportunities for service, he feels, would be greater if left to manage a government department which is what would happen if Mr. Coolidge were elected.

Lowden May Be Drafted

Next to Mr. Hoover there are other candidates who meet the Presidential favor. "There are, among others, Senator Lenroot, of Wisconsin, and former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois. The latter doesn't want to make the race but may be drafted. There are certain reasons why no man should decline a Vice Presidential nomination and one of them could probably be given by Hiram Johnson, who declined to be Warren Harding's running mate in 1920 and the other is the added circumstance that this year especially the election may be thrown into Congress for settlement and in the event of a deadlock in the House of Representatives, the choice of a President might devolve upon the United States Senate with the two leading Vice Presidential nominees as the ones from whom the next incumbent of the White House might be selected. Mr. Coolidge can hardly recommend that as a reason for acceptance, however, as he expects to win and the argument isn't making as much headway with the hesitant ones as it should.

Senator Lenroot was to have been selected in 1920, when plans suddenly went awry on the mention of Calvin Coolidge's name in the last session of the convention. Mr. Lenroot is of the progressive school and, hailing from Wisconsin, might be expected to add some strength to the ticket, especially with Mr. La Follette opposing the Presidential race as an independent. Mr. Lenroot was one of the "mild reservationist" group on the League of Nations issue and is thoroughly acceptable to the regular organization.

The President's wishes will be respected, of course, but the chances are that the Republican convention will not begin its session with a hard and fast understanding on the Vice Presidency waiting somewhat for the development of sentiment of the delegates. For already there is beginning to be heard criticism that the Republican convention is a "rafting" meeting and that a few men are dictating its actions rather than the Republican party as a whole.

Teeing Off With the Golfers

DETROIT, June 6.—Thirteen finetwice played the links yesterday in golfers were within six strokes of each other in the contest for the national open golf championship, when the final 36-hole play was started today at Oakland Hills Country Club, with the possibility that any one of them might finish the day's play with a score and would carry away the title.

Bobby Jones, Atlanta amateur, defending his title, and Bill Melhorn, of St. Louis, were leading the four-score golfers still in the tournament, after yesterday's double round, with a total of 147 strokes for the first 36 holes.

Only one stroke behind this pair was Cyril Walker, of New York, who

Betting Will Favor Tremaine

COLUMBUS, June 6.—Occasionally Columbus becomes one of the largest betting centers in the United States. These periods of wild gambling usually appear on the eve of a football game in which Ohio an eighty in the morning.

Another contender who might easily surge to the front was Walter Hagen, former American and British open champion, who had a pair of 75s to his credit when he started today's rounds. The other stars who were in close striking position for the lead were Tom Kerrigan and Mike Brady, of New York, with 152 each, and Clarence Hackney, Atlantic City, James West and T. D. Armour, of New York, with 153 each.

State's gridders are to appear. Seldom has the city become the mecca for sportsmen who follow boxers and who are likely to wager a bit on their favorites.

But within the past few days or since Harry Sully has announced that Carl Tremaine and Eddie O'Dowd are to meet here in a 12-round decision contest next Monday night, money has been rushed into Columbus via the offices of several brokers and all for the purpose of backing Tremaine against O'Dowd.

This outside money first appeared Tuesday. Wednesday one broker reported that $10,000 is available at his office at even money that Tremaine wins, and at 4 to 10 that Tremaine scores a knockout.

Larkins Fined; Sent to Jail

Frank Larkins, 27, North End, when they entered a running man, charged with assault on the premises and were with intent to kill, was sentenced to jail for 30 days and a fine of $100 for the assault on Arthur and Burke. The hearing further indicated that the assault upon Arthur and Burke was a case of mistaken identity being taken by Larkins for others whom he suspected of stealing a fine of $100 and costs against him. A further charge of assault against Frank Miller, 45, was dismissed for lack of convincing evidence. The charge against Larkins arose out of the "beating up" of Theodore Arthur and Raymond Burke at the Reitz Hotel yard last Friday night. The hearing disclosed that the two young men were attacked and struck

Indiana Democratic Convention

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6.—(By the A. P.)—Overwhelming the convention of a Ku Klux Klan, which was holding approximately one fourth of the votes, the Democratic state convention here today re-dedicated the party to the constitutional guarantees of freedom of worship and expression and nominated for governor, Dr. Carlton B. McCallough, Indianapolis, who was opposed by the Klan in the recent state primary. State Senator Joseph M. Cravens, of Madison, supported by the Klan forces, held a vote of 200 through the last of three ballots. Later a motion by Cravens' followers to make the nomination unanimous, carried by acclamation. "Shoulder to shoulder with you all," said Dr. McCallough, when called to the platform. "I will give every waking hour and every iota of my energy to the preservation of the constitution of the state of Indiana and the United States."

The Hoover delegation to the national convention, headed by Tom Taggart, of French Lick, and avowedly favorable to United States Senator Samuel M. Tamm, was unopposed. "I am anxious that the delegates from my home state shall go to the convention with open minds and perfect freedom to participate in nominating the best man to lead our party in the presidential contest," Senator Tamm said in addressing the convention. Parliamentary wrangling by the opposition after the reading of the plank on "freedom and liberty" served only to delay for a moment the thunderous acclamation which wrote the pronouncement into the platform. "We condemn all efforts to stir up race and class hatred and the creation of dissension amongst our people," the plank read.

12 Seek Superintendency of Ironton Schools

The following applications had been received for the superintendency: Wayne Lutz, Pomeroy, Ohio; H. E. Schramm, Columbus, Ohio; J. C. Wood, Glendale, Ohio; S. W. Frasure, Stricker, Ohio; F. B. Lattin, Kenova, W. Va.; R. H. Brown, Dayton, Ky.; J. P. Beaman, Versailles, Ky.; Walter Armstrong, Mansfield, Ohio; J. C. Meritt, Mt. Vernon, Ohio; C. A. Waltz, Xenia, Ohio; and John M. Woodman, the Kent State Normal School. All the applicants are now superintendents at the places where they are located, with the exception of Mr. Armstrong, who is assistant principal, and Mr. Schramm, who is with the U. S. U. John Richardson, Middletown, N. J., has applied for the position of athletic director, and J. C. Shapkins, Painesville, O., is an applicant for the position of principal at the high school, positions formerly held by Carlton "Shorty" Dickey and Prof. James I. Newton.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly: Are orders for patterns published in your paper addressed to you? What colors are suitable for a red headed girl? please tell me what will remove blackheads from the face?

Orders for patterns should be addressed to the pattern department not to Dolly Wise. Usually a red-headed girl with brown eyes finds brown, green, yellow, lavender and certain very delicate shades of pink becoming. For blackheads you might try this treatment: Cover the face with a layer of good cleansing cream, wipe it out on a soft towel, then apply salicylic acid application to the face until the pores are thoroughly opened. Press the blackheads out, being sure that your fingers are covered with soft cloth to prevent bruising the skin. Then wash the face for several minutes in cold water, and finally rub it briskly with a piece of ice. In three weeks you should have a marked improvement in the condition of your skin.

Dear Dolly: I am a girl of 14 and I want your advice about this. Dolly, one of my older sisters and a friend of mine follow my notice and I want to show on Saturday night, but that does not satisfy her. She wants to fox us every night in the week. Now Dolly, we get tired of this, and we don't want to take her everywhere we go. Dolly, answer this as soon as you get it as we are anxious to have your opinion on this subject.

TIRE SOME GIRL.

I wouldn't fox you if I were your sister. I would take you by the hand and lead you around. If you have a little friend, she could take him by the other hand, and show you a nice time walking up and down the main drag and waiting for the taxis. Waiting in a small town is a great life if you don't weaken.

Dear Dolly: I need your advice. I am a girl of sixteen and have good clothes, but, Dolly, my mother is so mean to me I can't stand it. I am going to her and obey her but she tells me she does not like me. I cry and study about her being so mean to me. I am always sad. She won't let me go places like other girls. Sometimes I think of running away from home. Do you think this would be right? Answer soon and give me all the advice you can. SAD HEART.

It is rather pathetic to think of a girl of 16 signing herself "Sad Heart" for sixteen should be a joyous age. However, crying won't help your case any. Don't leave home unless you are trained to be self-supporting. If I were you I would fit myself to make an honest living in the home and then I'd go out and do it. Perhaps your mother would have more respect for you if you prove you can support yourself.

Dear Dolly: I am a girl of 15 years and I want you to help me as you have helped so many other people. I would like to have you publish this letter. I am asking if any one wants a good girl to help them do work this summer as I need a job very badly. K. H. E.

You do not say what kind of work you want, so I can only print your letter and hope the right person will see it. I will be glad to give your name and address to any one who calls for it.

ROSEBUD

Gather rose petals with the roses are in their richest bloom, but not when the dew is on them, and pack in this jar in layers, two inches deep, sprinkling two table-spoons of fine, dry salt upon each layer. Continue this until the jar is full, adding fresh petals and salt daily. Keep in a dark, dry, cool place. A week after the last relay is gathered turn out the salted petals upon a broad platter or an a paper, mix and toss together, until the mass is loosened. Then add one half ounce of violet powder, one ounce of orris root, one half ounce of rose powder, one half ounce of heliotrope powder, one half ounce of mace, one teaspoon of cinnamon. Any other sweet scented perfume that you would like may be added. Pack in a clean jar, cover tightly and set away to ripen. If kept covered except at intervals when you want to scent the room this jar should keep fragrant for years.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

6 Olive Roberts Barton

THE MAGIC GARDEN

"This is my house—this is where I live."

Nancy and Nick, now no bigger than little mice since they had put on the magic shoes, hopped up on the window sill of their room beside Johnny Jump up, the garden fairy. "Now climb down the rose-vine," commanded the Jolly little fellow.

So, down they went in the moonlight, the three of them, and soon they came to the garden.

"This is my house—this is where I live," shouted Johnny Jump up, running toward a large violet plant with big nodding purple blossoms.

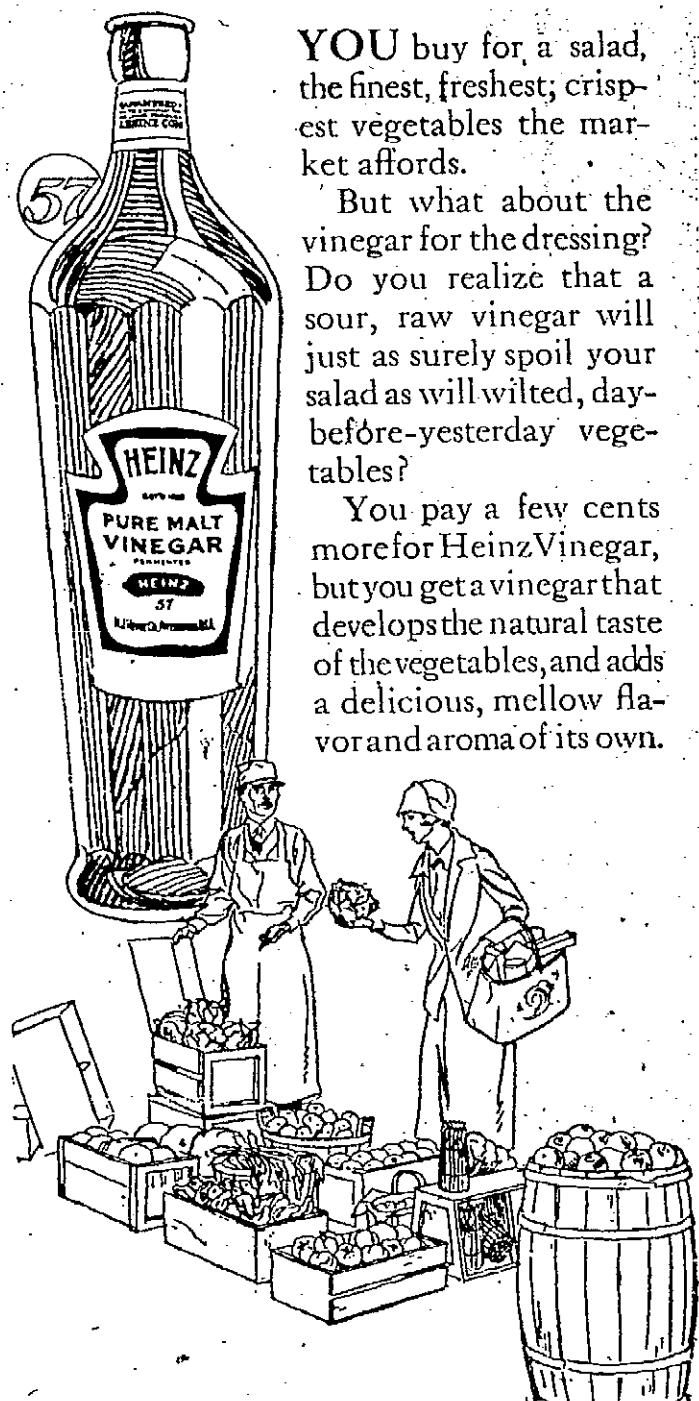

And then suddenly the Twins noticed something very strange. The violet plant was in the shape of a house. Queer they had never noticed it before.

Suddenly a lot of tiny fairies that looked like Johnny Jump up himself rushed out of the violet plants and began to tumble and jump about and do cartwheels and handstands like tiny circus actors.

When they stopped tumbling, they crowded around the Twins. "Welcome to the magic garden," they cried. "Did you come to help scare the grub worms?"

"Certainly they didn't," declared Johnny Jump up. "That's your job, you rascals. Now I'm going on a journey with my friends here, and before I come back I want you to have every roach and cutworm and grub scared out of here. And if you see any strange fairies coming for rose-leaves for dresses, be sure that they only take one apiece. The moon's out so you won't need the lightning bugs to help you."

"All right," cried all the little garden fairies. "Goodbye, boy and girl! We hope you have a nice time. Goodbye."

HEINZ PURE Vinegars

YOU buy for a salad, the finest, freshest, crispest vegetables the market affords.

But what about the vinegar for the dressing? Do you realize that a sour, raw vinegar will just as surely spoil your salad as will wilted, day-before-yesterday vegetables?

You pay a few cents more for Heinz Vinegar, but you get a vinegar that develops the natural taste of the vegetables, and adds a delicious, mellow flavor and aroma of its own.

Miss Mabel Austin of Sixth street and Miss Roxie Friend motored to Huntington, W. Va., for a week-end visit with relatives and friends.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES — IN THE FROZEN NORTH

It was a lazy-looking old sailing vessel that bobbed up and down at the side of a loading dock. Jack Daw and his pet dog, Flip, were very much interested in the watched husky-looking sailors preparing the ship for a sail out to sea, and loading it with food.

A great crane, fastened tight to the dock, would reach out and pick up big bundles. Then it would swing them out over the boat and let them down through a large hatch hold at the bow end. Jack perched himself upon a mooring post, wondering what was in all the bundles.

"Well, young fellow," said a deep voice, "how would you like to take a ride on that big boat?" "Oh, that would be fine!" replied Jack. And then he discovered that the man who had spoken to him was the captain of the boat. He was an old man and had whiskers. (Continued.)

Klan Konclave Is Held at Lucasville

Estimates indicate that upwards of five thousand people attended the Ku Klux Klan konclave held at Lucasville, last night, at which Rev. O. H. Innes, pastor of the Wheelersburg M. E. church was the speaker.

The meeting was held in the natural amphitheater above the bridge, on the west-side of Scioto Trail, and the crowd was one of the largest which has gathered in the county for some time.

Music by a quartette, a flag ceremony, and burning of three crosses, representing the main women's and Junior Klan, were features of the program.

Three hundred Klansmen were in robes, doing police duty, and forming a line about the big crowd.

WHY YOU CAN BE SURE OF GARLAND

Garland began, fifty years ago, with the idea that the friendship of the home—the wife and the mother—was vital to this business.

That conviction solidified into a permanent policy—into a tradition which governs every manufacturing process which enters into the building of Garland Stoves. The American people BELIEVE in Garland—millions of them—and buy without hesitation because of that belief and the familiar old Garland symbol.

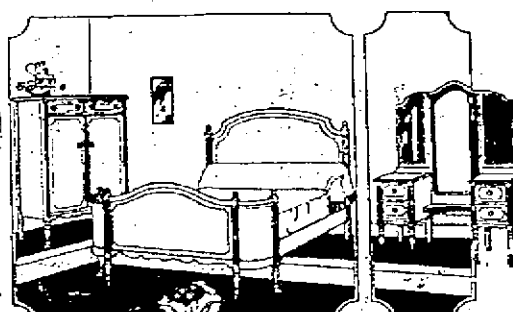

That belief and confidence is the most valuable asset in this business—it is your positive guarantee that no other stove in the world is built as soundly, scientifically and well.

Urges Parcel Post Expansion To Boost Export Trade Volume

PORTSMOUTH, June 6.—That the United States parcel post and mail services should be intensively developed in the interests of American exports overseas, was urged here today by C. M. Wynne, vice-president, Overseas Trading Company, Chicago, before the 11th National Foreign Trade convention.

Mr. Wynne declared that by the application of the same parcel post service to foreign trade that has proven so successful for American business in its domestic trade, American export sales would be immeasurably improved, and that the United States business men would be put on an even basis with foreign countries which now have a highly developed overseas parcel post and mail service.

Reclamation Measure Is Voted By Senate

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Reclamation legislation was voted by the senate last night, and a bill embodying recommendations of Secretary Work's fact finding commission to the pending deficiency bill and gave its approval to both. The house is expected to pass a similar reclamation measure tomorrow.

The measure would afford relief to settlers on reclamation.

BILL TO CHECK UP CAMPAIGN COSTS PASSED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The senate today adopted the conference report on the postal salaries increase bill, which carries a provision requiring periodic reports from political parties on campaign expenditures.

The provision for publicity of campaign expenditures is embodied in an amendment agreed upon by house and senate conferees which was offered by Representative Cahill, Republican, Ohio, as a substitute for one of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, and would require reports quarterly and before and after a national campaign.

At the same time that action was taken on the report, Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, introduced a resolution calling for appointment of a special committee to sit through the presidential campaign with a view to keeping a check on expenditures of political committees and candidates. At his request action on it went over until tomorrow.

An average annual increase of $200 is authorized in the postal bill for each of the 300,000 postal employees.

HERRIOT DECLINES TO TAKE POST UNLESS MILLERAND RESIGNS

PARIS, June 6.—The conflict between M. Millerand, President of the Republic and the new majority in the chamber of deputies, came to a head today with a clash between the burly ex-Socialist chief magistrate and the equally burly and determined radical Mayor of Lyons, Edouard Herriot.

M. Millerand, whose tenacity in 1913 as Mayor of Paris, played a mighty part in winning the first battle of the Marne, stands with his back to the wall defending constitutional precedents after a lapse of ten years.

The president, on the advice of the presidents of the chamber and senate, summoned M. Herriot to the Elysee Palace yesterday and requested him to undertake the task of forming a cabinet. The question having been raised by M. Herriot as to the continuance of M. Millerand in office, the president of the republic declared his determination to remain for the full constitutional term. M. Herriot then declined the commission.

DAUGHERTY CASE TO BE APPEALED TO SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Almost the entire session of the senate today was given over to an acrimonious discussion of the Daugherty investigation.

It is a result of the adoption of a resolution, under suspension of the rules and with but two dissenting votes, requesting the attorney general to appeal to the supreme court from a decision of the federal court at Cincinnati releasing M. S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney general, on a writ of habeas corpus after he had been taken into custody in pursuit of a senate subpoena.

Chairman Brookhart introduced the subject in a speech partly in review of the testimony taken in the inquiry, and partly in denunciation of the former attorney general, particularly stressing his criticism of M. Daugherty's refusal to testify personally or to continue his representations before the committee.

Cleveland Car Men To Vote On Strike; Want Award Enforced

CLEVELAND, June 6.—Notices of meetings tomorrow of Union carmen to vote on the refusal of the Cleveland Railway company to accept an award of 12 cents an hour increase in wages for the men were posted by the union in all car barns here today. The men will ballot on a strike to enforce the award and indications are that a majority will favor a walkout.

The meetings will be held, The first one in the evening for men on gas vans and another after midnight for the night workers. At the same time, City Law Director Carl D. Shaw was drawing up resolutions regarding that the company accept the award. Efforts to postpone a strike until after the Republican convention are being made.

Bill To Standardize Navy Passes Senate

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The bill standardizing construction of eight scout cruisers and conversion of several coal burning battleships to oil burners, was passed by the senate tonight. Action was taken in the time required by the clock, and the bill.

The measure was recommended by the navy department as necessary to bring the American navy up to the standard established as a part of the country's naval policy. It already had passed the house and now goes to the president.

THE LAND OF FORGOTTEN MEN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Peter Newhall, Arizona, Ga., who escaped from Idaho, Kansas, Virginia, in a quarrel during a moonlight ride, threatens to throw Paul Harrison, Idaho's secretary, overboard from a drunken stupor to be told by Idaho's state police that he had been killed in the night. Harrison crosses him to flee to South America, but unbeknown to his wife, Dorothy, he flies to Alaska, where he is known as the Remittance Man.

He joins his wife, Lillian, in response to a distress signal at sea, and forces his way aboard upon the ship. Lillian, however, is not so easily won. Newhall receives a telegram that his wife's body, identified by the sea jacket, has been buried near Miraflores, Alaska. She permits Lillian to call, feeling she can now receive his attention.

But Peter had not dreamed. He was rescued by another ship answering the same call. However, his appearance is completely changed by the journey and the weather.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Two days' sail from Uplakia a broken part forced the ship to enter a little settlement in the Shumagin Islands, and when the ship had fastened to the dock for repairs Peter found, to his consternation, that he was in Squaw Harbor, instantly remembered as the home port of the ship. For the reason he was shocked with fear. Although his old shipwrecked was on the other side of the Peninsula, the fame of the Remittance Man had carried down this far, and likely there were men here who would recognize him as Peter Newhall. His first intention was to duck below and remain in hiding.

But already that chance was gone. He turned, he ran squarely upon two men who had just entered the pilot house; one of them was his captain, and the other Alex Bradford, the superintendent of the cannery, and the last man on earth whom he wanted to see now. Bradford had once offered the hospitality of the little bachelor lodge he had built at the edge of the sea, to a young fellow, who, the latter would pay him without recognition. Peter's heart leaped as the man walked by without a glance.

But he was not safe yet. The captain was immediately behind Bradford, and he stopped Peter with an outstretched hand.

There had been few more terrifying moments in Peter's life. He had felt, breathless and deathly pale under his brown wooden and sunburnt. The officer's eyes were friendly; indeed he seemed less aloof, more companionable than ever before. "Come here, Alex," he said easily to the man in front. Bradford turned with no look other than friendly interest. "Meet Peter—Lillian's Peter, as his friends call him. He is Mr. Bradford of the cannery." Bradford's smile and handshake were cordial. "Peter, Mr. Bradford has the blizzy run of boats he ever had in his life in a new trap he was crafty enough to find, and he's in need of some good labor. You were going to get off up here a ways anyhow—why don't you ask for a job here with Mr. Bradford?"

Until this moment Peter had never realized how completely his appearance had been changed. Now, as Bradford gazed straight at him without even a hint of recognition, with no sign that this bearded sailor even recalled any one he had met, the little's self-confidence melted like a flame. "I'd be mighty glad to work here," he said quietly. "If Mr. Bradford can use me."

"I can use you, all right. I'll put you on the webber at the usual wages. I've never quite caught up with myself since I lost so many of my best men in the Jupiter disaster. By the way, Captain, you were standing by when that happened?"

"Yes, well, gone to help the victim—same as your boat. I guess, Peter, here, was on the victim—the single survivor. Of course, we put out a boat and cruised around until there was no hope of finding any one else alive—then went on without waiting for the dead to drift ashore. We picked up Pete more or less through those reefs, and how he got through those shoals was a miracle. We saw, just dimly in the dawn, the Jupiter break up, but she was too far away for us to help. How many men did you lose on the Jupiter when she went down?"

"All aboard, as you know—six of my men, a stranger from Nuklausk whose body was found to go to the cannery, and that thing that used to go to the cannery. We called him the Remittance Man, and he lived in a native village on the other side."

It seemed beyond belief to Peter that these men would not hear the wild, drumlike beat of his heart. "Did you find most of the bodies?" he asked, when at last he could trust himself to speak.

"About half of both crews, the Remittance Man, by the way, turned out to be quite a fellow down south—as I had always guessed. His real name was Newhall—something like that—and he'd got in a drunken brawl and killed a man—was up here hiding. He was almost out of his mind by the time he was found. He had given his coat, that night to the big Nuklausk—Big Chris Larson, the man had called him—saying it was Larson's name instead of his own, that should be buried on the ridge headstone."

He could go to work here, unharmed and unsuspected. It was as if he had died and grown up again, that with his new appearance, he must also gain a new personality, not that of the wealthy son of a family, Peter, Newhall, but that of simple Peter, a plowman and a son of toil, a man of the North.

He with her, beautiful of her eyes, with shimmering hair, with primary attention. Meanwhile he moved her with that impossible fitness that is the peculiar gift of the eastern people.

He never let her form the suggestion of an hour. He played to her, he hypnotized her with his eyes, he always in perfect control; curious of the sea, rare works of art from his own ancestral castle in the Vale. In her, warmer moods he would immediate marriage, and when she was cool and marriage was his, he would for her promise of future surrender to him, when time had healed the wound of Peter's loss.

One night, in the second year he had brought her a marvelous blue diamond—a priceless thing with a singular history—and he had wanted her to take it as a symbol of marriage, and that night she had been strangely, deeply afraid of him. She had in the stage, rather fire to her hand, and when she had taken it off and put in his sister's ring as if it were his, she had, watercolorly beautiful

"I KNOW I CAN'T WEAR MOURNING FOREVER."

Light had passed to this thin face. "Keep it awhile, Ivan," she told him. "Sometime I would be proud to wear it—but not yet."

She had drawn back from him, appalled in spite of herself at what she could so dimly read in his striking dark face. It was always like a splendid floor to her; tonight he suggested the same jungle numbing of its prey.

She had gone into subdued mourning, but still saw a few friends and visited a few of the neighboring houses; and now, as another Georgia summer was at its height, he pleaded with her to go back to the gay center that he loved. He seemed to feel that when her old gait returned to her, when she again took her place in the smart southern society, his long courtship would be crowned with success. But he did not at once win this point; and because she did not fully understand it herself, she was scarcely able to explain to him the curious way she felt about it. "I can't be the girl I was, Ivan," she explained. "If that girl was the girl you loved, and you don't want her changed, you'd better go away—and not come back. Some way, I don't feel that I could begin exactly where I left off. I don't feel and think exactly like I did—maybe I'm more like the girl that Peter originally married—like a schoolgirl instead of a woman. I feel wildered—not knowing where to turn or how to go. I know I can't wear mourning forever."

"Then put it off. It's been a year and a half. Take up the old happy life again."

"There's the trouble. I don't feel I can go back to exactly the kind of happiness that you mean of course. I'll come around to it in time, just don't hurry me, Ivan. Something is working in me, and I don't know what it is; but in the end I think it will be all right. You know there is no other man. But when I try to think of you, so many times I find myself thinking of Peter—lying on that starboard davit, just don't hurry me, and I feel—I almost know—that everything will come out right for you in time."

She had received, long since, her husband's few belongings, gathered by the patient effort of Captain J. J. Harrison; and she could not go near them now without tears. With them she had received a letter—one that no human eyes save her own had seen—and some way it had revealed their marriage relation in a new light. It had not only shown Peter from a different angle, but had also illumined her point of view in regard to herself.

Her thought had taken a new course since reading this letter. In it, until then she had always thought upon her husband's disgrace and death as the consummation of his own debt, heroic punishment, surely, but for which he could blame no one but himself. Now she began to wonder if some little bit of blame could not be laid on her.

Ivan's attentions after these first blissful months of her marriage, had been latterly of the most engaging kind. It was not that he wanted other women's jealousy, she had given him more dances than were his right, and devoted too much of her time and attention to him. It had all been like a mad dream, going from morning till night, sacrificing her home hours.

Good News for Ailing Women

Much has been said for and against proprietary medicines by the medical profession. It will interest every woman to know that in a recent country-wide canvass of over 125,000 purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as to the results received from its use, the replies received showed that ninety-eight out of every one hundred women had been benefited by its use. Therefore every sick and ailing woman owes it to herself to give this remarkably successful remedy a fair trial. Advertisement.

CO-OPERATION SALE

Realizing that in order to get business started in a healthy manner and thereby start our mills, factories and etc., and give employment at full time to all the unemployed, there must be co-operation.

1st. The Public Must Buy From the Merchant.

Greenup Homecoming June 15

Greenup's homecoming will be held June 15, it has been announced and it is expected that the little Ken-tucky town will be thronged by former residents honoring the occasion with their presence, re-forming old acquaintanceship and welcoming for-mer friends. The homecoming has been arranged as part of a statewide celebration in honor of former residents, and an appropriate program will be given. Luncheon and refreshments will be served under auspices of the Civic prisoners. Details concerning the conflict are lacking, for it is being waged in the thick forests which fringe the international border in the Temiscouata region. It is known, however, that huge quantities of liquor have been cached in the timber fastnesses for smuggling into the United States.

Canadian and American revenue and customs agents, as well as inspectors of the Quebec liquor commission, invaded the region recently to hunt for the liquor and block its passage across the line.

It has been definitely established that the contraband came from St. Pierre, Miquelon after having been smuggled by schooner from abroad and landed on the rocky coast north of Maine.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Both at the Treasury and the Prohibition unit, knowledge was denied today of any run-running battle along the Canadian border. No reports had been received of such an incident, it was stated.

Phone Operators

Stunned; Stick To Their Posts

DOVER, June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—Every one of the 2,750 telephones in New Philadelphia was put out of commission last night when lightning struck the exchange of the Tuscarawas County Telephone Company, and destroyed the cable room.

Two operators, Marie Dillon and Helen Moore were stunned, but recovered and remained at their posts and called the fire department before the lines went out entirely out of commission. They were driven out by smoke. Fire destroyed the exchange in 1912. The fire in the exchange demoralized service of nearby towns. The "dead" wire from Cleveland which connects with Denison, Uhrichville and other towns, operates through New Philadelphia and was destroyed during the fire, leaving these towns isolated.

Martin Ahead In Florida Primary

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., June 6.—(By the Associated Press)—With more than nine-tenths of the returns from Tuesday's Democratic primary tabulated, John W. Martin today had a lead of approximately 13,000 votes over Sidney J. Catts, nearest opponent for the nomination as the state's next governor.

Martin's total had passed the 53,000 mark, with Catts almost to the forty thousand figure, Frank E. Jennings was in third place with 35,000. Further reports showed that W. G. McAdoo was maintaining his lead of two to one for the state's endorsement of his candidacy for the presidency. William J. Bryan led the ticket for delegates-at-large in virtually every county heard from.

RIVER NEWS

The Ohio river registered a stage of 14.0 feet and falling in the Portsmouth district Friday. Str. Tom Green departed at 4 a. m. for Cincinnati; Str. Greenwood due up for Charleston at 4 p. m., and Str. General Wood scheduled to pass down at 5 p. m. bound for Cincinnati.

Straight Lace Wins

EPSON DOWNS, ENGLAND, June 6.—(By The A. P.)—Straits Lace, by Son-in-law, out of Stolen Kiss, owned by Sir, Edward Hulton, won the Oaks Stakes of 2,000 with extras, the classic for 3-year-old fillies at one mile and a half, running here today.

Lord Roseberry's Flack, by Hurry On, out of Great, was second and Mrs. S. Whitburn's Mink, by Marten, out of Cupstoser, was third. Twelve horses ran. Straits Lace won by a length and a half with a head between Flack and Mink. The betting was Straits Lace 100 to 30 against, Flack 11 to 10; Mink 100 to 7.

Women Meet; Plan To Get Out Big Vote

Between 50 and 75 members of the Republican Women's Organization of Portsmouth met this afternoon in the Coolidge Club headquarters on Sixth street to make plans for pre-primary election work. The efforts of the organization will be very largely directed toward thoroughly organizing the six wards of the city in order to get out a large percentage of the woman vote of the town. Two chairmen have been appointed for each ward, and these 12 women, with their precinct assistants, will endeavor to get every woman voter out for the primaries.

Scouts Will Inspect Camp

Boy Scouts will spend Saturday at their camp near Scitoville. All who attend are urged to bring their own lunch. Scout Commissioner Henderson has arranged for a big day and every Scout in the city is urged to attend what will be known as Inspection Day.

HE IS GREATEST WHO SERVES BEST, DR. DANIEL F. RITTENHOUSE TELLS P. H. S. GRADUATES

Commencement Exercises Held Last Night in High School; 112 Receive Diplomas

Declaring that it is the ideal of service that wins out in the end and brings the reward which all are seeking, Dr. Daniel F. Rittenhouse, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Columbus, brought to the 112 graduates of Portsmouth high school and their friends assembled in the high school auditorium last night, a message brimful of food for thought, a most timely address that had for its climax: "He is Greatest Who Serves Best." Dr. Rittenhouse proved to be a splendid speaker and, in addition to bringing a message of much interest, entertained his audience with bits of his personal experiences.

Dr. Rittenhouse urged the young folks who are completing their grade and high school careers not to select for their goal military, intellectual or monetary standards but a standard of service which would have for its reward: "Ye have been faithful over a few things, I will make ye ruler over many."

Boys Outnumber Girls
This year's class of 112 young men and young women proved to be one of the largest to leave Portsmouth High. It was unusual in that 57 were young men and 55 young women, the majority in such cases generally being boys.

Of the 112, six graduated with highest distinction, an honor of which they may be justly proud. Four of the half dozen honored students were girls. Of 43 graduating with distinction, 26 were girls and 17 boys.

men and women were selected for the chorus numbers with Miss Severinghaus as accompanist on the piano. The opening number by the orchestra was "War March of the Priests" by the orchestra, followed by invocation by Rev. C. E. Severinghaus, pastor of Franklin avenue M. E. church and father of one of the graduates.

"Proudly as the Eagle" was the selection offered by a Male Chorus of fourteen voices. A mixed chorus rendered "Massa Dear," ten girls and six boys taking part.

"Alma Mater" was a three-part selection by twelve girls of the class. The last special number was Dr. Rittenhouse's address, a message of about 25 minutes.

"Always Prepared"
The graduating class occupied seats arranged in tier formation on the stage, the girls having the front row seats with the boys in the background. The girls were all white and carried the class flower, pink rose, while the boys wore dark suits and the flower, pink roses.

The diplomas were presented by Marvin C. Clark, president of the Board of Education, as superintendent of Schools Frank Appel called each student forward to receive the coveted parchment.

Prof. Appel Chairman
Superintendent Appel who acted as chairman in introducing Dr. Rittenhouse as the speaker of the evening, said that he was pastor of a church that is packed every Sunday night and that in the recent past a radio sending outfit was installed in the church so that the sermons could be heard by the hundred unable to go to his church. Dr. Rittenhouse has traveled extensively in this and foreign countries, and has a wealth of material from which to bring interesting messages.

Before delving into his address last night he spoke of his automobile ride about the city and highly complimented the patrons of the schools on the fine structures they have here for the training of the youth. "Modern America and Our American Citizenship" was the subject Dr. Rittenhouse announced for his address and in part he said:

Modern Americanism
"People say nowadays that what we want to characterize our country in the future we must put into our schools today. Recently at a meeting of foreigners in New York City where anarchism was the underlying motive, there were gathered those persons whose sole ambition is to put the ground from under the feet of Americans. I have looked in at the back door of many nations and I find we are living in the greatest nation in the world. Foreigners, to hear Americans talk of their country, form the opinion that we are a nation of blowers and baggarts. This nation of ours, one that all should be glad to brag about, is the work of a great and wonderful Providence. We read in school books about Christopher Columbus discovering this country in 1492. Such is not so. True, he crossed the ocean and finally after a long journey landed at an island far from these United States. What would have been the result had he landed along the shore of this country? Look at old Mexico and you have your answer. Old Mexico reflects the influence of the man who made up the party that first set foot there. Fortunate, indeed, are we that the influence of the Spaniards did not have to do with the birth of this nation. Who was it that the Indians greeted along the shores of this now proud nation? It was Englishmen, and it is their influence the nation reflects today. Fortunate we were, that it was men of the seventeenth century and not men of the fifteenth century."

 "Owe All To Providence"
"This country was providentially discovered, and it is to Divine Providence we owe the blessings of such discovery for it was the English influences that brought shape and power to this nation. Our wonderful climate is an act of Divine Providence and the same is true of our territorial expansion. Have you ever considered the expanse of this great country?"

"It cannot be over-populated. If you put the right kind of people here. We could put all the people in the world here and still have more room than Belgium. Then we shut out 42 Japanese a year for fear of overcrowding the country. We have over half the railroad systems in the world. Chicago has more telephones than Russia, and more than the eleven smallest countries in Europe. We have everything needed to make up a great country, politically, socially and religiously."

"From Such Ranks As These"
"From these great ranks of graduates leaving 740 high schools come our leaders of tomorrow. They all aim to do the right thing but how do they know they are doing the right thing? Toward what ideals do they strive? To what goals do they go forward?"

The Right Ideal
"The ideal of long enough was that of the great fighter, or the military standard. Men were trained to fight and were measured by the length of their sword. Why did Germany fall? It was because Germany had been building up the old military standard. If we are not to have a military standard, should it be one of big brains? Let us not forget that our criminal and corrective institutions house college and university graduates, men of big brains. They have big brains but used them for the wrong purpose. If these two standards must be cast into the discard, how about the money ideal? Love of money continues to be the "root of all evil." A man with plenty of money has power, he may control many things, but time has arrived when people ask, how and where did he get? Not, how much does he have? We cannot live, and the nation cannot survive by the monetary standard. Do all things with a higher motive. If we are not to have the military, intellectual, or monetary standard, what must we have? A standard or ideal of service is the goal of life, and our reward will be measured by the amount of genuine service a person puts into living. It is not what you can get out of it, but what you can get into it that counts. The country honors those who give most of their services."

Gladstone and Lincoln
For example the speaker took the birth of two boys, one in England and one in America. The one in England proved to be William E. Gladstone, and the other Abraham Lincoln and he pointed out their steady climb to the pinnacle of fame, through the giving of service. Continuing his address he said "If any one would be great let him serve. You graduates have received more than what you have paid. The big question now is 'By what standard will you travel?' Remember the worth of one who traveled the road of service and who said 'He is greatest who serves best.' With this ever uppermost in your mind, the final reward is sure to be 'Ye who have been faithful over a few things, ye will I make ruler over many.'"

Superintendent Appel then explained the promotion system in use in the Portsmouth public schools, how every pupil must stand on his own merits in the striving to pass onto higher grades. A pupil who maintains an average of 80 with no grade below 80, passes with highest distinction. One who has an average of 80 with no grade below 70, passes with distinction. One who maintains an average of 70 passes with diploma.

Mr. Clark Presents Diplomas
President Clark of the School Board then presented diplomas to the following:

ANOTHER LOCAL LADY REPORTS RELIEF

Mrs. Carnegie tells how new herbal tonic "DRECO" now being introduced by Stewart's Drug Store overcame head aches, indigestion, backache, gastritis. Eats breakfast for first time in years.

Probably no woman in Portsmouth is happier than Mrs. Carrie Carnegie who makes her home at South Webster. For Mrs. Carnegie is well again—feeling better than in years. And to Dr. Green, the remarkable remedy gives all the credit. Here's the way she told it to the Drego man.
 "I'd been suffering for years from backache and disorders of the liver, kidneys, stomach and bowels but it was only recently that I got any relief worth mentioning. The aches in my joints and muscles had me so crippled I could hardly do my work and at night I couldn't even sleep in comfort.
 "After every meal I suffered severely from indigestion, sour stomach and a burning in my stomach. Gas

Features of Yesterday's Games

NEW YORK, June 6.—Dogging the heels of their metropolitan rivals and tearing at the portals of baseball fame, the Boston Red Sox and the Chicago Cubs, the surprise teams of the 1924 season, are seriously threatening the existence of the four time pennant hopes of Managers McGraw and Huggins.

The hand of fate entered into the American league argument yesterday, when the Yankees, forced into idleness by a dampened atmosphere, pulled up into line with the Red Sox when the Browns lowered the colors of their Boston rivals, 5 to 2.

The Cubs toppled over the faltering Giants, 6 to 4. McGraw dispatched four twirlers to the mound, offered up a trio of pinch hitters and even swapped catchers for luck but the Cubs were not to be denied.

The Phillies gained on their seventh place rivals, the Cardinals, by walloping them 4 to 2.

Washington topped the Tigers in a free hitting contest, 9 to 7.

The Indians and Athletics engaged in an old fashioned slugger bee in which the "Ace" of each deck was pounded into submission, the Indians finally emerging victorious, 5 to 4, in a see-saw exhibition.

Daily Vacation Bible School Opens Monday

On Monday morning at 9 o'clock the Daily Vacation Bible School, at the Franklin Avenue Methodist church, will be opened.

It will be a community school, under the supervision of the pastor, Rev. Charles E. Severinghaus and the Parish Deaconess, Miss M. Lippoldt. All children between the ages of five and fourteen are welcome to attend, whether belonging to the constituency of this particular church or not. The school is free.

SOCIETY

Virginia Jane Smith entertained Tuesday afternoon a group of school friends in honor of her ninth birthday anniversary. Games, music and guessing contests composed the amusements for the afternoon. Later the guests were invited to the dining room where a dainty ice course was served to the following guests: Ada Trischler, Mildred Hartz, Dorcas West, Anna Shriver, Margaret Janetsky, Anthony Doll and the hostess. Virginia Jane received many nice gifts from her little friends.

Villa Faces Suit

NEW YORK, June 6.—Pancho Villa, flyweight boxing champion, has been sued for $50,000 by a fellow countryman, who charges alienation of his wife's affections, it was learned today.

A summons and complaint were served on Villa as he was dressing for his last fight on May 27, and yesterday his attorney filed an answer denying the charges contained in the suit.

Fernman Dantes, who lives with his wife in Manhattan, is the plaintiff. Villa lived at the Dantes home when he first arrived in this country from the Philippines. Dantes alleges his wife grew cool towards him and went out often with Villa to celebrate his victories in the ring. Finally she admitted her affection for the boxer, the husband claimed.

Dantes and his wife are still living in the same apartment. He said he did not want a divorce. They have a child for whom Villa stood as god father while he was living with them, according to Dantes.

GRADUATE NURSE TELLS HOW TANLAC HELPED MANY OF HER PATIENTS

Seattle Nurse Is Firm Believer In Tanlac And Recommends It.

"From my long experience as a professional nurse, I do not hesitate to say I consider Tanlac the most efficient and natural stomach medicine and tonic to be had. It is undoubtedly nature's most perfect remedy," is the far-reaching statement given out for publication, recently, by Mrs. L. A. Borden, 425 Pontius avenue, Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago.

"I have used Tanlac exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients," said Mrs. Borden, "and my experience has been that for keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly, and for toning up the system in general, it has no equal. "About a year ago I had a lady patient who could not keep a thing on her stomach fifteen minutes, not even water. I prevailed on her to try Tanlac and after the sixth bottle she could eat absolutely anything she wanted without the slightest bad after-effects.

"I had another patient who simply could not eat. I got him started on Tanlac and by the time he finished three bottles he was eating ravenously and able to work.

"These are two instances that are typical of the wonderful merits of the medicine. My confidence in Tanlac is unlimited."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Tanlac is for sale by all good stipulation, made and recommended by the manufacturers, of Tanlac—advertising.

SOCIETY

About fifty members of the Junior Class of the Portsmouth High School enjoyed an all day picnic Thursday at "Sunnyvale," the summer home of Mrs. Jake Pfau on the McDermott Pike. The day was spent in various indoor and outdoor games, dancing and music, with a sumptuous picnic lunch served at the noon hour and also in the evening. A delightful radio program was also enjoyed during the evening. The affair was arranged by Miss Genevieve Scott, and the chaperones were Mrs. Pfau, Mrs. William Sheets and Mrs. Walter Dunn.

A charming one o'clock luncheon preceded the regular meeting of the Friday Sewing Club this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Marting on Eighth street. The meeting was held earlier than usual in order to accommodate those who wished to attend the Frances Badger Guild outing at Taylorton Woods. Following the luncheon the remainder of the time was spent in dainty needlework.

Twenty members of the local order of the White Shrine of Jerusalem motored to Ashland, Ky., recently to witness the initiation of eleven new members into the local organization. The initiation took place in the Masonic hall in that city with impressive ceremonies, the candidates including Mrs. Cornelia B. Treutnant, Mrs. Thomas Nichols, Mrs. John Voelker, Mrs. Allen Stutter, Mrs. Winston Lenave, Mrs. David Poffenberger, Mrs. J. S. Kennedy, Mrs. George S. Prince, Mrs. Mae E. Davidson all of this city and Mrs. George Koeh and Mrs. J. B. Lee of Wheelersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson of Linden avenue and Mrs. Watson's little niece, Lorena McComis of Ashland, Mr. Carl Scheide and daughter, Miss Mary Louise Scheide of Third street, motored to Ashland, Wednesday, to be present at the commencement exercises of the Holy Family high school from which Mrs. Watson's sister, Miss Loreta Eastham of Cannonsburg, Ky., was being graduated. Lorena McComis remained in Ashland at her home while Miss Loreta Eastham motored back to enjoy a brief visit in Portsmouth with relatives and friends. While in Ashland the party was entertained at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. McComis. Miss Eastham is a niece of Mrs. Walter Hagley of Court street and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Eastham of Cannonsburg, Ky.

REAL FOOD FOR SUMMER

It begins to look as though we were going to have the good old summer time—in which event it will pay you to have a care as to your diet. One thing above all others is recommended:

EAT PEERLESS ICE CREAM

And stay strong, well and happy. It's good to eat, one of life's luxuries, but so cheap that it is within the reach of all.

SPECIAL FOR SUNDAY

Boy Is Run Down By Auto Driven By Capt. Startzman

Charles C. Hore, Jr., seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hore, 713 Waller street, sustained painful bruises when he was run down by a machine driven by Police Captain Life Startzman yesterday evening in front of his home.

The lad had a close call from serious injuries as the left front and rear wheels of the machine passed over the boy's legs while his head and body were under the machine. Had the lad attempted to raise up he probably would have been fatally injured.

"I had just arrived home and stepped from my machine when I was attracted by the noise a machine was making going out Waller street. The next thing I knew it struck my boy, knocked him down and two wheels passed over his legs," Mr. Hore said today. "Charles would have been seriously hurt had he not been so lucky when the machine passed over his body. Capt. Startzman was sending his machine along at a fast clip."

Capt. Startzman claims the boy fell just as he approached his machine after dashing out from behind one parked on Waller street.

Drs. J. S. Rosin and D. A. Berni, who attended the Hore boy, found that he had suffered bruises but no broken bones.

Car Is Found; $2,000 Check Is Missing

FRONTON, O., June 6.—J. E. Marz, prominent contractor at Frankfort, Ky., reported to local police last evening the theft of a $2,000 check, which he claims was stolen from a car in his car. According to Sergeant Baldwin, Marshall came to the city late yesterday afternoon and was detained in the city several hours on business. He parked his car and then forgot where he left it. At first it was thought that the car had been stolen, but Sergeant Baldwin located it at Fifth and Vesuvius streets. A speedy search of the car failed to find the missing check, which was drawn on a bank in Portsmouth. The bank was notified to stop payment of the check.

Pomona Grange Meets Saturday

The Pomona Grange will meet in South Webster at 7 o'clock Saturday night and a large attendance is looked for. The lecture program will start at 8 and among the speakers will be Charles Frank and Deputy State Master Charles Zeller.

Letters From Our Readers

Editor of The Times:

Is patriotism dying out in Portsmouth?

On Memorial Day the patriotic organizations of this city met at their annual attempt to secure the services of the Grange Band to march in the parade doing honor to our hero dead.

The excuse given by the band was that, inasmuch as part of their members were union and part non-union musicians, and it is against the union rules to play for anything, they could not donate their services. However, this excuse does not hold water, as those same men play at all Grange affairs, churches and the like for nothing. Also they went with Portsmouth High to a football game at Fronton for merely having their expenses paid. Looks like it would be against the union rules to even play in a band like the Grange—as they never receive pay.

And mighty poor rules they are that wouldn't permit a man to play music to commemorate the dead? If it were not for those who died in battle they might be playing in the Kaiser's band for nothing.

All praise to the New Boston band that came down to help poor old Portsmouth out. An glad we at least have some patriotic neighbors.

DAUGHTER OF A VETERAN.

St. Mary's Commencement Next Tuesday

Tuesday evening, June 10, at eight o'clock in the Portsmouth High School Auditorium, the graduating class of St. Mary's High School will hold their Commencement Exercises.

Patricia Glocker, of Fronton, will deliver the Commencement address. Father Goebel will present the diplomas.

What Joy, What Bliss! School Is Out

Today was the last day of school and in every building, best dresses, fresh ribbons and bunches of flowers marked the day as a gala occasion. As the reporter passed the Bond street school this morning, the little girls all carried large bunches of roses and syringas as a parting offering to "teacher." Two young misses celebrated the day by carrying their new Japanese parasols. At Massie school rancorous enthusiasm were making snapshots of teachers and principal and groups of classmates. Gay songs, final recitations, warm handshakes from the teachers who have guided their mental training for the past nine months, and the school year was over, and the little folks turned loose to frolic through the summertime.

Snake and Ape Falls

LO SANGELES—The Demon and Pythias of a local show-place are a 20-foot constrictor and a 20-pound ape. The two spend hours together in the same cage, and although it would be easy for the snake to crush and swallow the little simian, they always are on the most amiable terms. The ape pulls the snake's tail, beats the monster's head and tries to catch the red, needle-like tongue as it darts in and out—all in fun, of course.

Doherty Is Released

Manager Chuck McDaniels, Bristol (Penn.) team, is in last place in the Appalachian League and in an effort to boost his standing he has signed several players and released four. Among the players let out is William Doherty, of this city.

Prohibition

The Prohibition resolution which looked as a small cloud on the party horizon, Wednesday night burst like a squall on the convention at its initial session yesterday morning. The ship was taken aback and for a few moments seemed to be a lee shore but some skillful maneuvering by H. C. Paris, who was temporarily in charge of the deck, brought it into the quieter waters of the resolutions committee. Mr. H. Patton, however, served unmistakable notice that he would insist upon a free discussion of his plan when the committee reported today.

He suggested that the crew abandon the ship leaving its colors flying and take to small boats, seeking quarters on the coast of the major parties. If this could not be obtained, he proposed that a new and larger vessel be launched which would attract to its decks all who would consent under the ensign of "new enforcement."

New Material For Organization

There seemed no likelihood that this program would be adopted as most of the others in the crew agreed with present leaders that there should be no other kind of ship. But even these agreed that after anchor is dropped next November there should be a general overhaul and inventory, with final decision then as to whether more voyages should be attempted.

The old ship is to be given some new deck planks today on which its newly chosen commanders may stand in the 1924 race. These will deal with such subjects as teaching of the Bible in the schools, world peace through co-operation of nations modified immigration laws and systematized Americanization. But the main must will remain steeped in the old solid prohibition.

Marigold Cream

SHUN CIVILIZATION

McGRATH, ALASKA—Deep in the polar wilderness on the banks of the Koyukuk River, bereft of all desire for the vanities of civilized life, live a dozen men with fortunes ranging from $25,000 to $50,000, according to an old-time prospector who is here on a vacation. The men have native wives and are utterly content with life within the Arctic circle.

Court House

Kraut Cutter Case Given Whirl

The celebrated Madison township kraut cutter suit, of William Brame, against Mrs. Maria Deemer was given a whirl in Common Pleas court Friday morning when Judge Thomas heard the evidence and then took the case under advisement.

The litigation over the ownership of the useful family utility started in May 1922, when Brame filed a suit in replevin against Mrs. Deemer in the court of Squire L. C. Allen, Madison township, seeking to recover possession of the cutter which he claimed as his property. Although officers of the court made diligent search they were unsuccessful to find the cutter and it is still missing. On hearing the case the magistrate made a finding in favor of Brame that he had a right to possession of the cabbage slicer and assessed his damages at $2 and costs amounting to $35.10.

The defendant, who claimed ownership of the cutter through purchase from Ulrich Brame, deceased, father of the plaintiff, some nine years ago, and that it was discarded and thrown away as worthless about five years ago. Mrs. Deemer appealed from the judgment and finding of the court below and through Attorney A. H. Bannan advanced a defense that Brame was barred from asserting his claim of ownership by the statutes of limitation because more than four years had elapsed when he filed his suit in replevin.

More than a score of prominent Madison township citizens were in court and testified in the case, while many others from that section interested in the outcome of the trial were present to hear the proceedings. The evidence adduced by the plaintiff and the testimony offered by the defense was extremely conflicting in respect to the title to the famous cutter and its whereabouts all these years.

Attorneys W. L. Hostetter and Guy Blair appeared for Brame.

Suit In Partition

Partition of real estate and equitable relief is sought by John Connor in an action filed Friday in Common Pleas court against Emma Bannett Lytle and others.

The real estate involved consists of sixteen separate tracts situated in New Boston and Clay townships and in the petition, filed through Attorney S. Amelie Skellon, Connor claims he has a legal right to and is seized in fee simple of the undivided one-sixth part of the premises described in the petition.

Suit In Foreclosure

Judgment for $600 with interest, claimed to be due on promissory notes, and to foreclose a mortgage on two lots situated in Naxos Park Addition, West side, is sought in an action brought by H. T. Hudson, suing through Attorney Blair and Blair, today in common Pleas court, against Harles and Minnie Glan.

Wife Seeks Divorce

Beatrice Robinson charges neglect and desertion in her suit for divorce from William Robinson, address unknown, brought Friday in Common Pleas court.

Plaintiff in her petition filed through Attorney F. W. Moulton, says they were married at Clinton Forge, Va., in March 1918, and then she complains that Robinson failed and neglected to support her, declaring that during a major portion of the time she lived with the defendant, she was compelled to work and keep up the expenses of the family. She further claims that Robinson entirely abandoned her in February, 1913.

Picot Straw and Bangkok Make Picturesque Summer Hats

Picot straw is the leading straw for summer. It is like Milan but very much finer. Bangkok is next in favor not only because it is very smart looking but because it is as light as a feather. These new fabrics are very prominent in our new display of summer hats. The trimmings are very simple but effective. A gay touch of embroidery, the graceful sweep of a feather, a clever use of ribbon or a few flowers artistically placed, make these new hats very smart and lovely. We are showing a number of these hats in our Re-Opening Display.

WAS INTRODUCED BY FRED M. VINSON

(Special to The Times.)
WASHINGTON, June 6.—The House today passed a bill introduced by Representative Fred M. Vinson of Kentucky, authorizing construction of a bridge across the Ohio River, connecting Portsmouth, Ohio, with Fulton, Ky. It also passed a bill granting authority to the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railroad to construct a bridge across the Cumberland River in DeKalb County, Kentucky, near the town of Burnside.

Official confirmation of the permit to go ahead with the bridge was received today by members of the new bridge company and served as a great inspiration to them to renew their efforts to sell stock.

It was stated today that no trouble was being experienced in selling the stock.

Jones In Lead

DETROIT, MICH., June 6.—(By the A. P.)—Bobby Jones, Atlanta, defending his title as national open golf champion, today scored a 75 in his third round for a total of 222 strokes, and led the field with only one possible player out who might top him.

Bill Mehlhorn, St. Louis, who had tied Jones yesterday on the first 36 holes at 147, today took 76 and was one stroke behind the Atlanta amateur.

Coupe Is Stolen

Clifford Rickett, of 614 Eighth street reported the theft of his Ford coupe to the police this morning. Rickett says the car was stolen while he was at work at the N. & W. this morning between his hours of 7 and 9 o'clock. It was parked on Galley street west of Beech street. Police are making an investigation.

Woman Murdered

PROY, N. Y., June 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—The body of Mrs. Frederick Rogers, 44, who in a light one-piece dress, was found today in a ditch one-half mile outside the city. The woman had been dead six hours and the authorities expressed the belief that she had been brought to the lonely road in an automobile.

To Meet Saturday

The meeting of River City Council, C. C. T., postponed from last Saturday, will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in their hall, Fourth and Washington streets. Delegates to the state convention in Cleveland last week will make their report. D. H. Ruppert, John Montavon, Malloy Higgins, Wayne Watkins, Jack Baum and C. B. Foster were among local delegates to the state meeting. Mr. Montavon served as chairman at the convention sessions.

New Departments Will Open Tomorrow

The new piece goods and notions departments which are to be a feature of the Hughes Company store on Galley street, will be open Saturday. Samuel Hughes, the proprietor, has had many years of experience in these particular lines and hopes to make these departments an important factor in his new business.

Not to Establish Super Government

CHICAGO, June 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—There is no purpose to make the Anti-Saloon League a super-government. Rev. F. Scott McMillan said at a banquet in his honor last night upon his inauguration as general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America and his retirement from the superintendency of the Illinois organization.

"The league will, however, give its efforts toward the enforcement of the law through the official who has taken an oath to enforce it," he said.

Dr. McMillan declared all governmental agencies must be purged from corrupt political influences and pledged to help the league to accomplish that.

West End Business Men to Entertain 200 at Fish Fry at Washington Tonight

Almost 200 tickets have been sold for the annual meeting and fish supper of the West End Improvement Association to be held tonight at 6:30 in the main dining room of the Washington Hotel. No more tickets will be sold as this is a capacity crowd for the dining room.

Fred B. Winter will be the toastmaster and a number of speakers will be called on, including Mayor Calvert, Judge Thomas, A. T. Pack, of the Bridge Association, E. E. Fullerton, of Greenup, and others. The fish fry will be followed by the election of officers.

City officials will be guests of the Association, along with members of the Fulton-Portsmouth Bridge Company, Good Roads Committee of South Portsmouth and the Chamber of Commerce.

Bureau Busy, Reports Show

Summer School Starts June 16

Principal H. H. Eccles reported today that there will be about 250 pupils in high school next semester. One hundred and twelve seniors graduates from school and 156 freshmen will enter next fall. The additional numbers of students will not warrant the hiring of any more teachers next semester than were on the faculty this year.

The summer school session will begin Monday, June 16, and will last six weeks.

About 40 pupils have already enrolled for the course in order to make up back studies. No one will be permitted to take advance work in the summer session on account of the short time. The teachers will be signed up as soon as the full enrollment is in. Bert Leach of the Commercial Department, will have charge.

No Interruption To River Improvements

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Because there is some belief among friends of the Ohio river improvement that the failure of a rivers and harbors bill to pass Congress at this session will retard or stop the work on Ohio River locks and dams, Colonel C. W. Kutz, Cincinnati, United States Division Engineers, announced that Ohio River improvements will go right along without interruption.

He stated the money for the work now in progress was appropriated by Congress in the army appropriation bill which passed some time ago and that funds are in sight for the completion of all of the remaining dams on which construction has not been begun.

Because of the high stages of the river, little work on river improvements has been possible as yet this season. However, Colonel Kutz says it is anticipated that in the next two or three weeks there will be a fall of the river sufficient to permit active operations.

CLEVELAND, O., June 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Emma Colavito was found guilty of first degree murder and a recommendation of mercy was added to the verdict when the jury returned its verdict at 2:00 p. m. today.

New Boston Alumni Holds Delightful Reunion

With an attendance of forty-two the fourth annual banquet of the New Boston High School Alumni Association was held last night, the association extending a most hearty welcome to the sixteen young men and women of the class of 1924.

The alumni members and the class of '24 assembled at Glenwood high school for their business meeting at eight o'clock. Superintendent D. E. Ross presented the latest class to graduate from Glenwood high and they were received by C. Vernon Smith, member of the association and a teacher in the New Boston schools. Miss Gladys Fremont, president of the new class responded to the remarks of welcome.

The members of the incoming class were then initiated, various mirth provoking stunts featuring this part of the program. A comic wedding by Robert Poole were special numbers on the program of initiation.

The election of officers was then held with President Kenneth Taylor presiding over the business session. The election resulted as follows:

Robert Poole, '23, president; Barbour Counts, '23, vice president; Gladys Fremont, '24, secretary; Irene Harris, '21, treasurer.

Little Miss Irene Stone then gave one of her pleasing recitals which made a big hit.

Superintendent Ross delivered a most interesting talk in which he complimented the alumni on their high ideals and their earnest efforts in trying to make Glenwood a better high school. He also urged the incoming class to become solid rocks upon which the association could build, thereby helping the association to achieve its aim. Miss Fremont in her response pledged the best efforts of the class to the association.

Following the program at the high school all adjourned to the New Boston confectionery where the banquet was served. The confectionery was decorated with lavender, old rose and grey, the 1924 class colors and green and pink, the alumni class colors. Part-colored balloons were freely used in the decorating, each one containing the numerals '24' in honor of the new members.

C. Vernon Smith was toastmaster at the banquet and called upon Prof. R. B. Higley, principal of the high school faculty for the only toast of the second part of the evening's program. Prof. Higley made an interesting address after which the dismissal was by President Poole.

The menu included cream tomato soup, roast pork, mashed potatoes, gravy, creamed peas, sliced tomatoes, bread and butter, strawberry in mode and coffee.

The entertainment committee in charge included Robert Poole, Kenneth Taylor, James Taylor, Ralph Elliott and Charles Kiser.

Sheehan Pitches In Splendid Form

BOSTON, MASS., June 6.—Tom Sheehan pitched brilliantly to a 6 to 0 victory over Boston. It was his sixth victory in seven games. Cincinnati drove Jess Barnes from the box in the third inning and continued the assault though less viciously on Conroy. Cincinnati made two runs in the ninth on two bases on balls and three sacrifices, one of which was mislaid by Tierney.

How the game was played:

First Inning. Burns beat one to short. Tierney threw out Shorten. Bressler drove to Felix. Walker doubled to right, scoring Burns. Pinelli lined to Felix. One run, two hits, no errors.

Barnett batted to Fowler who executed a roof pass. Fowler singled to center. Sheehan fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning. Fowler lined to Felix. Critz rolled to Tierney. Wingo singled to center. Sheehan fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Tierney skied to Walker. Stengel singled to left. Padgett fanned. O'Neil lofted to Walker. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning. Burns doubled to left. Shorten beat a punt to center. Bressler singled to right. Burns scoring and Shorten going to third. Walker popped to Padgett. Pinelli singled to center, scoring Shorten and Bressler going to third. Exit Barnes. Conroy coming in. On Fowler's lap, Bressler was run down. Baneroff, O'Neil to Padgett to Conroy. A double steal failed. Pinelli dying at the plate. O'Neil to Baneroff to O'Neil. Two runs, four hits, no errors.

Conroy beat one to third. Baneroff, O'Neil to Critz. Felix skied to Walker. Cunningham walked. Melanis forced Conroy. Pinelli unassisted. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fourth Inning. Critz got a single off Conroy's hoof and kept on to second when Conroy threw wild past him. Wingo drove to center. Sheehan fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Barnett singled over second, scoring Critz. Shorten fouled to O'Neil. One run, two hits, one error.

Tierney batted to Sheehan. Stengel rolled to Critz. Padgett scratched a hit past Sheehan. O'Neil singled to center. Baneroff taking third. Conroy forced O'Neil. Fowler to Critz. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning. Bressler looped to Stengel. Walker lined to Felix. Pinelli fouled to Melanis. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Barnett batted to Fowler. Critz (three out) Felix. Cunningham singled to center. Melanis lined to Walker. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning

Fowler was called out on strikes. Critz lined to Felix. Wingo singled to left. Sheehan doubled to left. Wingo going to third. Burns fouled to Melanis. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Tierney fanned. Stengel batted to Critz. Padgett singled to center. O'Neil lined to Walker. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Seventh Inning. Shorten singled to left. Bressler fouled to O'Neil. Walker popped to Tierney. Pinelli walked. Fowler forced Shorten. Padgett unassisted. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Conroy singled over short. Baneroff batted to Critz. Felix lined to Shorten. Fowler tossed out Cunningham. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning. Critz filed to Felix. Wingo fanned. Sheehan filed to Stengel. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Melanis lined to Walker. Pinelli tossed out Tierney. Stengel out, Bressler to Sheehan. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning. Burns walked. Tierney fanned. Shorten's punt. Burns going to third. Bressler walked, hitting the bases. Walker's fly to Stengel scored Burns. Shorten went to third. Pinelli sacrificed. Tierney to Melanis. Shorten scoring. Fowler batted to Conroy. Two runs, no hits, no errors.

Padgett batted to Pinelli. O'Neil batted to Pinelli. Gibson batted for Conroy and struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

LOOK

We have just received a shipment of Valentines Simplex Auto Finishes. This is a dull finish coat like the dull coat on Reo cars.

This finish will last for years and will not show scratches and will not peel or crack as other paints always do. You can wipe this finish with a rag and the more you wipe it the better it looks.

The only real sensible paint on the market and the cost is much less than you would pay for a varnish job.

We have this finish in light grey, dark grey, maroon, green, blue and black.

Let us show you the colors and quote you prices.

Several R. and O. officials arrived here about noon on a gasoline motor car from Portsmouth Tuesday, where they had been on an inspection trip over the Portsmouth district. Among the party were General Superintendent as well as new parts. Hence he is having a building erected large enough for his present needs anyway.

New Radio Installed

Mrs. Nettie Jones has installed a new radio receiving outfit at her residence on Lock street. Those who have listened in say it is the best they ever heard. His set is a new model which the Jones Drug company had on sale. County Auditor Carl W. Penn was over at Jones' Thursday afternoon to see how the new outfit worked, when he was surprised to hear announced the name of a relative, Rev. H. C. Elliott of a United Brethren Church on West State street Columbus. After Rev. Elliott had completed his address, a song was sung by his son.

Addresses Community Meeting

The community meeting at the Presbyterian church every Wednesday night are attracting nice crowds and some fine programs are being rendered. A special feature of the meeting this week was a sermon by Deacon John Horner, the prominent biblical authority. Mr. Horner had as his text, "The Resurrection," and many in the audience said it was the most masterful presentation of the subject they had ever listened to.

THE EXPECTED COURSE

THIS calm and fair observer of passing and coming events sagely observed a month ago that President Coolidge would sign the tax reduction bill, drafted by a Democrat, for a Republican congress to pass almost unanimously, a compliment never yet bestowed on a minority measure, nor a majority one, for that matter, where partisan issue was brought into it.

Yes, what anyone could have foretold, if he held his soul clear of partisan wrangling, has come to pass.

President Coolidge has signed on the dotted line.

He takes less than ten lines to tell why he does, and 2,490 to tell wherein the measure is defective and vicious.

It is all right for him to have his fling, too, for the bill does have its faults and none of its kind can ever be drawn that will suit the individual wishes of all the divergent interests that are to be affected thereby.

It is exceedingly meritorious in that it cuts down everybody's taxes and has merit in the fact that it obliterates a lot of excises and imposts that produced a minimum amount of revenue with a maximum of aggravation.

The history of the measure should be instructive, teaching the people, as it does, nothing having partisan cast should be taken for granted.

When proposed by the administration as the Mellon plan, everything relating to it was sedulously suppressed, with the exception of the one fact that it reduced taxation.

Powerful interests got back of it and the greatest legislative propaganda the country has ever known was organized to create popular approval of it. So artful and so ramified were the operations of this propaganda that for a time it looked as though its imposition would succeed without so much as a protest.

No sooner, however, did one brave Democrat and one courageous Republican oppose it on its introduction into congress, than the mask fell from it and not even Nick Longworth, Republican floor leader, had the hardihood to defend it with any vim. It was doomed the moment its real provisions became known.

Thereafter its career was as inglorious as its fomentation had been brilliant. It was radically amended in the house, got all tattered and torn in the senate and, finally, against the president's wishes, became the law, bearing no resemblance to the Mellon plan.

The only point of difference, however, over which the masses will concern themselves directly is that the congressional measure makes the big cut on the little fellows, those with incomes of less than $10,000—while the Mellon plan would have made it on the big fellows, those with incomes running into the hundreds of thousands.

AN INCIDENT OF WAR

A French tribunal has lately made a decision that is likely to form a precedent for three-fourths of the nations of the earth.

A soldier, we'll call him Etienne, went to the front, carrying a policy insuring him against the ordinary risks of war service.

The strain proved too much on his courage and in a short time he deserted. Apprehended he was shot in short order, for desertion.

Sometime after peace came his surviving relatives sued to recover the amount of the policy. After a long legal battle a higher court gave the final decision, that no recovery could be had, holding that death through desertion was not the culmination of an ordinary war risk.

The court rules both justly and patriotically. Desertion penalty is not an ordinary risk, it is most extraordinary, most dishonorable. It was one brought upon the unhappy man by his own cowardice and his own act and neither he, nor anyone in his stead, should be permitted to profit by it.

To hold otherwise would be to destroy the honor and vitality of the host that fights for country and home, to say loyalty is no virtue.

SLEEP IN PEACE

FROM unimpeachable authority it is learned that Sheriff Dunham had a deep, and almost unfathomable motive, in his employment of one hundred deputies, to look out for automobile thieves. According to a little bird, that flew into The Times office, Dunham has outlined a plan for the immediate and effective employment of his tin badge scouts. Secret orders are being prepared to be read in the dark of the moon at the midnight hour. Under these sealed orders fifty of the scouts are to encircle the jail in order to keep watch and ward over the sheriff and his automobile and see that they come to no harm. The other fifty are to form a cordon around the city building and mayor's office to prevent any bold bandit from carrying off a policeman or city car.

The citizens of the community may now rest in peace, secure in the knowledge that their city and county officers and their automobiles are perfectly safe. Only over the dead bodies of one hundred scouts can they possibly be disturbed.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 6.—Thoughts while strolling around New York Theatre time. Megaphones shouting warning against ticket speculators. But they do a thriving business next door. The speeding hum of the Rialto—beautiful and terrible.

A group of Chinese tumblers. The women trailing behind with mincing steps. A hundred tongues babbling. There's Jusse Livermore—Wall Street's skyrocket. Looks more the collegiate. Thumpy mechanical pianos. Old men, who should be home, aping modernity.

Captain Kidds in fine tailored clothes. Women with thoughts as scarlet as their lips. And how the gods must laugh hilariously! Faded women selling the last of their faded violets. One day they, too, were a part of the brilliant pageant.

Wonder what will happen to me when I grow old? Arnold Rothstein the mysterious, silent gangster. And there's Danus Runyon. He has the cryptic expression of the wise old owl. And roams until dawn. But always the teetotaler.

Cafes make ready for the nightly jazz. Fat palms waiting for the crooked. A famous graft collector with a few's paunch and rapacious jaw. Broadway really begins to live at 11. And its every morning is a mocking headache. Nine cabarets padlocked, but there's life in the old street still.

Out of town folks dropping into pleasant cafes. Enjoying their food and going home. While New York's swill horrendous booz and breakfast on seltzer. There's Marcus Loew—gazing at two of his mammoth theatres.

The Times Square drug store, where thousands meet. And slip away from prying eyes into subway caverns. Midnight newsmen. Long-nose loungers pouring over the racing forms. And hoping for the killing that never comes.

There is a shoe shop on Seventh Avenue near the Palace that specializes in dancing shoes, wooden shoes and shoes that are belled. It is quite an unusual place. When the customer comes for a try on, there is a little platform where, to the tune of a phonograph, he may try out his new foot-wear. For those who desire it there is a bucket of sand. The proprietor was formerly a dancer, but when his limbs grew stiff he opened the shop. He has two sons and a daughter who appear professionally.

Ten years ago at a hotel where I lived, there was a young boy in short trousers who kept me company many lonesome evenings. He was a bright lad and an unusual mimic. The other evening I dropped in for the last half of the performance at the Palace. On the bill as a headliner was Jack Osterman—the boy of ten years ago, now sophisticated and fashioning wise cracks for the Palace wisecracks. He was making them laugh, too. His father was Jake Rosenthal, an old theatrical manager, who passed on a year ago. He was a father who gave more devotion to his son than almost any father I ever knew. And I could not help but think what a great night it would have been for him to see his boy. It was a great night, for me, too, but I went home feeling dreadfully old.

At a Teamsters' Ball given on Tenth Avenue, one of the reporters for a morning newspaper was asked by his chief editor what he saw of interest. "I never saw so many swell sweaters in my life," he replied.

One of the Tenth Avenue social events is the Ditch Diggers' Annual Ball. The members are city employees. Copyrighted, 1924, by the McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

Love Letter of a Grocery Clerk
Mary was a kitchen maid.
Ambrose her loyal swain.
Mary would the kitchen raid.
Should Ambrose hunger faint.

Mary's faithful Romeo
Had not the poet's pen—
He used the simple grocery terms
That served him time again.

"Your cheeks are pink as plump boiled ham,
Your hair like the celery's top,
Your lips as red as the finest beet,
The prize of the farmer's crop."

Your neck is like asparagus,
It is so long and round;
Your heart is soft as butter,
At fifteen cents a pound.

"You are my Irish potato,
Your eyes are my apples green—
They give me a pain like an empty tooth.
Such is the state of my bean."

In These Days
"I see some gentleman is going to present his fellow citizens with a statue honoring Serenity."
"Maybe it is just as well. Most of us have forgotten what it means."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Stork's Understanding
Soph—"Why does a stork stand on one foot?"
Fresh—"I'll bite; why does he?"
Soph—"If he'd lift the other foot, he'd fall down."—Chapparral.

"Yes. I couldn't keep up the installments."

A Friend
A short time ago a London newspaper offered a prize for the best definition of "A Friend." Among the many thousand answers which were received, the one that was awarded the first prize was:

"The first person who comes in when the world goes out."
"The second prize was given to the definition sent in by a small boy, who wrote:

"A friend is a fellow who knows all about you and likes you just the same."

Sauce For The Gander
"I'll ring for Nora to bring a fresh pitcher of water," said the professor's wife.

"You doubtless mean a pitcher of fresh water," her husband corrected her. "I wish you would pay more attention to your rhetoric; your mistakes are curious."

Ten minutes later the professor said: "That picture would show to better advantage if you were to hang it over the clock."

"You doubtless mean above the clock," his wife retorted demurely. "If we were to hang it over the clock we couldn't tell the time. I wish you would be more careful with your rhetoric, my dear, your mistakes are curious."

Some Diplomat

They had just been married and were about to start on their wedding trip. He was embarrassed to the point of forgetfulness but he met the situation expertly.

"Why, Harry, you've bought only one ticket," reproached the bride. "Just like me, dear," flashed Harry, "always forgetting myself."—The National.

The Right Spirit
"Do you think the new sheriff of stop gambling in Crimmon Gulch?" "Shouldn't be surprised," answered Cactus Joe. "First thing he did was bet $500 he could."
